Verse of the Day

Hear my cry, O God; listen to my prayer. From the ends of the earth I call to you, I call as my heart grows faint; lead me to the rock that is higher than I. For you have been my refuge, a strong tower against the foe. I long to dwell in your tent forever and take refuge in the shelter of your wings. (Psalm 61:1-4) way, Lenoir City was charged with theft under $500.

According to the affidavit filed by Detective Jonathan Sartin, LCPD; on or about October 12th, 2011, Ms. Hartline was staying with the victim at his residence on Jim Hartsook Drive in Lenoir City. While at the home, Hartline took $20 from the victim's wallet without his permission.

Detective Sartin, LCPD made the arrest Wednesday.

Police Beat

Darrell Dean Stevens Jr., 29, Hillcrest Drive, Lenoir City was charged with domestic violence.

According to reports, Officer Brandon Gentry, LCPD responded to a domestic dispute on Hillcrest Drive Sunday and upon arrival spoke with the victim, who stated when she came home she found her Stevens intoxicated.

The woman reportedly said Stevens began getting aggravated with her and made threats to hurt her, so his brother stepped between them and Stevens began fighting with him.

When the officer arrived on the scene, the brothers were no longer fighting, but Stevens' knuckles were skinned from fighting the other man.

Mr. Stevens was very intoxicated and when the officer attempted to speak with him, he became very aggravated and hit the wall with his fist.

Stevens was then placed under arrest and transported to the Loudon County Jail.

Alternatives

alternatives for keeping dishes delicious when the original ingredients called for in a recipe need to be changed.

The new Web page could be a time and temper saver for the cook who goes to measure out ingredients for a favorite holiday food only to find an important ingredient missing. Popular holiday recipes are often made only once a year with ingredients not necessarily considered kitchen staples.

To access "Easy Alternatives," go to the Pick Tennessee Products home page and click "Cook Now" on the right hand side of the screen. From there, click on "Helpful Hints" to find the new listing. Also now included in "Helpful Hints" is a comprehensive kitchen measures chart to help cooks convert farm measures like bushels and pecks to kitchen measures like quarts and pounds.

Buttermilk Pound Cake

Yield: 12 servings
 1/2 lb. (2 sticks) unsalted local butter, softened
 2 C sugar
 4 eggs
 1 tsp pure lemon extract
 1 tsp pure vanilla extract
 3 C all-purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 tsp baking soda
 1/4 tsp salt
 1 C local buttermilk
 Preheat the oven to 325°F.

Lightly grease and flour a 12-cup Bundt pan and set aside.

In the bowl of an electric mixer, beat the butter at medium speed until creamy, around 2 minutes. Gradually add the sugar, beating 5 minutes.

Add the eggs, 1 at a time, beating just until the yellow disappears, Stir in the lemon extract and vanilla extract.

In a separate bowl, combine the flour, baking powder, baking soda, and salt. Add to the butter mixture alternately with the buttermilk, beginning and ending with the flour mixture. Beat on low speed just until blended. Transfer the batter to the prepared pan.

Bake 1 hour and 5 minutes or until a tester inserted in the center comes out clean. Cool in the pan 10 minutes on a wire rack. Remove and cool completely on a wire rack before slicing and serving.

Tips

and not over-spend.

•Decide what matters. If you are buying gadgets, know what your "must-have" features are versus those that are just nice to have.

•Use search engines. Type a company or product name into your search engine with such terms as "review," "complaint" or "scam," to find out more.

•Read online reviews. Reviews from other consumers, experts and columnists can give you an idea of how a product performs. Don't put all of your trust in one review.

•Consider reputation. A brand's reputation for quality and good customer service can really pay off.

•Check comparison

shopping sites. These sites connect to many retailers selling the same product, sometimes at significantly different prices.

•Consider coupons. Some companies offer discounts via email and some websites collect and list codes for free shipping and other discounts. Search for the store with such terms as "discount," "coupon" or "free shipping."

•Read return policies. Not all stores have the same rules. Some charge fees for return shipping or restocking things like electronics.

And be sure to check on the address – should a return be necessary, you want to make sure you know where to send it.

•Decide how to pay. When you shop online, credit cards can offer extra precautions.

•Look for a secure checkout. Does the website start with "https" (the "s" stands for secure) when you are checking out?

Consumer Affairs (www.tn.gov/consumer/) is a division of the Department of Commerce and Insurance (www.tn.gov/commerce/), which works to protect consumers while ensuring fair competition for industries and professionals who do business in Tennessee.

vehicle during a dispute while they were traveling along I-75 Friday.

Kimberly Irene Settles, 26, West Second Avenue, Lenoir City was charged with aggravated domestic assault.

According to reports, Friday, around 11:33 PM, Officer Chris Law, LCPD was dispatched to a residence on West Second Avenue on a domestic call and upon arrival met with the victim, who stated he and his girlfriend, Kimberly Settles got into an argument while traveling on Interstate 75 around the 81 mile marker. The victim said Settles started hitting him in the face and throwing things out the window. Settles also put the car in park several times in the middle of the interstate and was trying to take the keys out of the ignition.

The victim further reported Ms. Settles ripped the dash off the front and the headliner.

Officer Law looked at the vehicle and the dash and headliner were indeed ripped off. The victim had marks around his face, eyes, and the side of his neck.

When the officer made contact with Ms. Settles, he found she was very intoxicated, had slurred speech and she didn't have any marks on her. She was determined to be the primary aggressor and duly charged.

Cell Fight

Martha June Mills, 28, of Old Spears Road, Lenoir City was charged with simple assault.

According to the warrant, on or about November 4, 2011 at or around 1:33 PM, Deputy Aaron Carroll did witness Martha June Mills and the victim fighting in B Block Cell of the Loudon County Jail.

The officer determined from what he saw that Ms. Mills was the aggressor and charged her with simple assault. Deputy Aaron Carroll, LCSO made the arrest.

Violated

of protection.

According to an affidavit filed by Detective Jack Fine, LCPD; the victim reported Pamela Sue Smith Lawrence violated the order of protection by going to a Highway 321 restaurant on August 31, 2011, on a child custody exchange and by calling the victim on August 26, 2011.

The order stated Smith was not to make contact with the victim and was issued in October of 2010. Deputy Brad Rayfield, LCSO made the arrest Thursday.
