Ozzy

Osborne, 33, homeless, was charged Friday, with resisting arrest, criminal simulation, promotion of manufacturing methamphetamine, and felony drug paraphernalia.

According to records, Deputy Michael Watkins, LCSO was dispatched to 205 Chickasaw Lane in Loudon to check on a suspicious vehicle that was parked at a home under construction. When the deputy arrived, the home contractor was there and pointed out the people in the vehicle.

Neither person had identification and they identified themselves as Dantrez Jackson and Timothy L. Pelfrey.

Mr. Jackson stated he'd dropped off several magazine subscription sellers in the area and he was in charged of the crew and driving the vehicle that had dropped them off.

Mr. Pelfrey was extremely nervous and continued to look around as if he was looking for an escape route.

Deputy Watkins explained there have been several burglaries and Mr. Jackson said officers were welcome to search the vehicle.

A green backpack was located near the back seat and the top pocket was unzipped. The deputy looked inside the pocket and discovered two baggies containing what appeared to be ammonia nitrate and some clear surgical tubing. He asked the men who the backpack belonged to.

Pelfrey said it was another guy who was riding with them and Jackson stated that both bags in the vehicle belonged to 'Ozzy' and 'Ozzy's' girlfriend.

Deputy Watkins returned to the vehicle and found a used syringe, a small glass pipe with powder residue, and a bottle with ammonia nitrate, which was located in a bottle that was fashioned in the way of manufacturing methamphetamine.

When the deputy returned to the men and pulled his handcuffs from his holder, Mr. Pelfrey jumped from his sitting position and put a pocket knife to his throat, saying he was not going to jail, he would kill himself first.

Investigator Jeff Russell,

LCSO-CID and Deputy Watkins grabbed Pelfrey and began scuffling in an attempt to dislodge the weapon from the man's hand.

After getting Mr. Pelfrey in custody, he told the deputy he wanted to shake his hand because he just caught one of "Americas Most Wanted" and he had given him a false name and date of birth. The man stated his real name was Mr. Franklin Osborne.

A check through NCIC, found Mr. Osborne wanted out of Meigs and Rhea County on charges ranging from failure to appear to violation of parole for escape.

Mr. Osborne stated that no one else in the vehicle had any knowledge of what was in his bag. Osborne was arrested and transported to the Loudon County Jail. Investigator Shane Ezell, LCSO-ND, was also on scene.
