The Good News

by Jeff Vittatoe

Silent Night, Holy Night

Around this time every year I find myself filled with both excitement and a sense of dread. I get excited just before Christmas Eve as I begin to think more about the amazing gift that we are celebrating, but at the same time I dread ANY type of shopping, navigating through large crowds, driving in Knoxville traffic and most Christmas songs and jingles that flood my ear holes when I turn on the radio. In most recent years I have allowed the traditions of Christmas to choke my sense of appreciation for why we even celebrate.

I am ashamed to say that I began this Christmas season by slowly sinking into that same trap until I was reminded of my purpose as a Christian and how the birth of Christ, followed by His ultimate sacrifice, made my salvation (And yours) possible.

Last Friday I began my day with more to do than humanly possible. Blondie and I were preparing to move across the county the following day and I had to scour through Loudon looking for boxes, begin packing up the house, go rent a U-Haul and fill it with all of our stuff. To make the day more interesting I discovered that my German Shepherd (whom I have had for almost 14 years) had gone missing so I had no choice but to suspend the packing process and begin a search of the area. After searching for hours I decided to take a short break. I sat down on my couch and turned on the television only to see where twenty young children and several adults had been horribly taken from their families just days before Christmas. My heart broke and still mounds for the many families effected by that tragic event.

I thought of my children and was mad that something like that could even (see TGN ctd. pg. 7)

West

Deputy Stegall, LCSO responded to a physical domestic on Heather Lane in Lenoir city. The victim did have physical signs on his face but refused medical. Law enforcement has responded several times in the past due to West's very violent temper and drug use.

the place -- but usually at one extreme or another. That can make for some really interesting interactions, and you might be able to get something good for yourself out of it all.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

Animals are more appealing today, so spend quality time with pets -- yours or someone else's. If you can get out to a natural setting, so much the better, but even just staring down a goldfish can be enlightening.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

Your love life reaches a new level today, and your great energy should help you to see it coming -- or to make it happen! Ask someone out, tell your partner how you feel or schedule a hot date.

Aries 3/21-4/19

You can get a lot of work done -- especially the kind of work you've been putting off for far too long. Personal business can always seem less important than anything else, but today it's paramount.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

Focus on domestic issues today -- clean house, spend quality time with mate and/or kids and just deal with all the issues you have to deal with to get through a normal day. You should feel recharged.

Gemini 5/21-6/21

Even though your brain isn't firing on all cylinders today, you can still get a lot done. Absorb that lesson -- you only need to focus a bit of your energy on the important stuff sometimes.

Cancer 6/22-7/22

You've got enough energy to take on the world today -- so go for it! You can get plenty done, feel great, look better and be home in time to get ready for an awesome night out, if that's what you want.

Leo 7/23-8/22

Let someone else take the credit today -- it should make up for the times when people assumed you were the one behind all things awesome when you weren't around to correct their misunderstandings.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

Your organizational skills are in high demand today, but you should be able to keep up with the pace. It doesn't matter whether it's coworkers or family members, you still need to deal.

Libra 9/23-10/22

Someone close needs help in a small way, but almost certainly doesn't know how (or whom) to ask. Offer assistance, preferably before they can say no, and show them how to take tiny, positive steps.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Today brings a situation that seems to demand your intervention, probably quite early, but you need to do whatever you can to let it evolve organically. Life is sure to go on -- maybe better than before!

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

Try to show some flexibility today -- it's more important than you realize. Someone close needs you to let them take charge, at least for a little while, and it's better for everyone if they can do so.

happen. To say the least, I was not feeling very festive toward the end of last week.

With the help of friends and family we did get moved and made it to church on time Sunday morning. Preacher Mark was sick but managed to suck it up and bring an awesome message. Many folks, including my family, came forward to pray for others and ourselves. After church, we stopped by our Loudon home to load a few misc. items that we had left behind and look one more time for my missing friend. While standing in the rain at the rear of my trailer, our "niece" from Montana walked up and informed me that she had accepted Jesus as her Lord and Savior during the invitation at church. (Insert huge shout here!!!)

This was the culmination of three mission trips and a partnership in Montana that led a lonely and neglected child into our state and into our home. God then used our pastor to deliver a Spirit-filled message while The Holy Spirit stirred this young lady's heart and prompted her to make the most important decision of her entire life! Now that is Good News!!! I hugged her and praised God for allowing us to be part of His work in delivering souls from eternity in hell, to eternity with Jesus.

This is why Jesus came to earth, as both God and Man. This is why we celebrate His birth each Christmas morning. Jesus came to us on that Silent night, that Holy night, so that He could pay the debt for our sins and through believing in His life, His death, His resurrection, and His Word, that we may have eternal life through Him!

Although I had not been "In the Christmas Spirit" thus far, God began to remind me that it is not about me. Since Sunday, God has continued to speak to me through others. Thanks to an honest, loving lady named Pat Tucker and the kindness of her son, my best four legged friend has been returned to me after a six day journey that led him from Dry Valley Road in Philadelphia to the head of the creek area in McMinn County.

In reflecting on the last week of my life, I have been blessed by last week's "Monday's Message" challenge, our newest house guest has invited Jesus into her heart, my shepherd is back home, I have got moved and have shared all of these experiences with my family. Although I have no Christmas tree in my living room and no decorations emanating from my home, I have the love of Jesus in my heart and The Holy Spirit of God is leading me to share the following information with you;

John 3:16-18 (KJV) (16) For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (17) For God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through Him might be saved. (18) He that believeth on Him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

The celebration of the birth of Jesus that we all recognize each year often stops at the point of a manger, with Mary and Joseph, and three wisemen. This year God has reminded me that I should also consider the life, death, resurrection and promise of eternal salvation that only began one Silent night, one Holy night.

We as Christians should consider all of those who visit our homes and exchange gifts with our family in the coming days. Do they know Jesus? Has the promise of salvation been explained to them? Have we done all that we can to share the entire gift of God and how important it is to have a personal relationship with our Creator?

Many of us will have an audience in our homes that really can't just walk away at the mere mention of His name. Many of us have a testimony of how believing in the birth of Christ and His sacrifice has allowed our names to be written in the Book of Life, granting us eternity with Jesus when our days are completed on this earth. Why not take this awesome opportunity to tell them how important it is that we accept Jesus as our personal Savior? If we truly love those who will be in our homes this week, do we not have an obligation to tell them what happened after that Silent night?

Luke 19:10 (KJV) For the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

Romans 3:23 (KJV) For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God.

Romans 6:23 (KJV) For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Romans 10:9-19 (KJV) (9) That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth The Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. (10) For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

Thanks for reading, thanks for your prayers and concerns while my buddy was missing and may God bless you and your family this Christmas season as He has mine. Thank you Jesus for continuing to save those who call upon Your name as Victoria did this past Sunday!!
