The Year in Review: A Look at FBI Cases, Part 1

The FBI worked thousands of investigations during 2012, involving everything from extremists bent on terror to cyber thieves, financial fraudsters, and child predators. As the year comes to a close, we take our annual look back at some of the Bureau's most significant cases.

Part 1 focuses on our top investigative priority—protecting the nation from terrorist attack. Working with local, state, federal, and international partners, we thwarted a number of potential attacks on U.S. citizens at home and abroad.

Here are some of the top terror cases of 2012, in reverse chronological order:

Alabama men arrested on terrorism charges: Two U.S. citizens living in Alabama were arrested in December and charged with planning to travel overseas to wage violent jihad. The pair met online and later confided their plans to an individual who—unknownst to them—was a confidential source working for the FBI.

Plot to destroy Ohio bridge: Four men were sentenced to prison in November for their role in a conspiracy to destroy a bridge near Cleveland. The men—all self-proclaimed anarchists—pled guilty to conspiracy to use weapons of mass destruction. The group allegedly planned a series of crimes in the Cleveland area.

about it, the rightful owner went with detectives to a Lenoir City recycler where they found the stove and the thief was revealed. According to a warrant filed by investigator Jason Smith, LCSO, the victim confronted the driver of a vehicle exiting Hochbiss Valley Lane that he noticed contained scrap he recognized as coming from his property. The victim identified the driver as Billy Joe Hill. The victim reported he had the subjects take the scrap back and dump it at his residence, but on the same date it was discovered an antique cook stove valued at approximately $1200 had been taken from the property. The victim located Billy Joe Hill at his residence on Heather Lane and asked him about the stove. Mr. Hill denied taking a stove from the property.

Two days later investigator Smith and the victim went to Green's Recycling in Lenoir City where they learned Mr. Hill had brought a stove, which he sold, for scrap to the business. The stove was identified by the victim as the one stolen from his property.

Billy Joe Hill, 32, of Heather Lane, Lenoir

City was charged with theft over $1000.

Horoscopes

ing up with anybody -- it could just be clearing out the basement.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

Your big brain and hot ideas are making someone see you in a new way. Romance is still in the air so if you're open to it, you should find that things get a lot better for you very quickly!

Pisces 2/19-3/20

Details are the enemy today -- so don't let yourself get nailed down! Things are looking good, but only if you can do things your way and avoid taking on any new projects or plans.

Aries 3/21-4/19

Leave the details for another time -- things are sure to get weird enough as it is! Push your people to get started on your next big scheme, and see if they can keep up with your manic energy!

Taurus 4/20-5/20

Tell someone how you really feel, even if you're afraid of how they might react. Things are still a little tenuous, but the only cure for that is honesty. They are sure to come around in a little while.

Gemini 5/21-6/21

You've got so much going on that you may temporarily forget to take care of some essential business. See if you can just get your friends to cover for you while you quickly backtrack.

Cancer 6/22-7/22

Try not to let your feelings interfere with anyone else's happiness today -- it's too easy to take out your irritation on others! The good news is that you should be feeling much better by this time tomorrow.

Leo 7/23-8/22

Someone is extremely impressed with what they see in you, and you should find that your energy is just right for following up on your best traits. You may turn a bad situation all the way around!

Virgo 8/23-9/22

You can make amazingly quick leaps of logic that land you in the right place at the right time. Things are looking up, and you just need to get to the truth to make the most of this situation.

Libra 9/23-10/22

You feel your dual nature shifting your perspective once again -- but this time, it's almost purely positive! You may find a new soft spot for someone you didn't care much for once upon a time.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Work issues are on your mind, but you need to take greater care and avoid the temptation to just act on instinct. Think through every angle before making a big decision -- you can do it.

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

Someone you know and trust is talking a big game -- but isn't really making things happen. See if you can get them fired up by showing them how their opportunities are closing.
