The Good News

by Jeff Vittatoe

If you were to think back over the years of your life could you name a certain event, conversation, book or class of study that changed the way you looked at things or changed your desires? I'm not talking about the eternal life changing effects of accepting Jesus just yet, but a simple event that directed and affected your life goals.

There are probably numerous events that helped to shape me but a couple stick out in my mind. I recall one of the first times I got to ride along with a Sheriff's deputy. It was around 1992 and I can remember riding with Bobby Hamilton on his patrol shift here in Loudon County. I was with him as he answered calls for service including those that required fast driving with lights blazing and sirens blaring. It was so exciting! I can remember thinking how cool it would be to actually get paid for doing that. One day, one shift, had an impact on me that resulted in a career of almost twenty years now in police service. I'm not sure if I should thank Bobby or if I should send him hate mail! I'm kidding, I still love police work and Bobby. He too loves Jesus and his life reflects it.

More importantly though is mine and Angie's decision about a year ago to surrender all aspects of our lives to Christ. We knew we wanted to serve the Lord but wasn't sure what that should really look like; that is until we were introduced to "Preacher Mark", true Bible study and a couple of other life changing books that are based on God's Word.

The first is a book called "Radical" by Dr. David Platt. David Platt is the pastor of the Church at Brook Hills in Birmingham, Alabama. In his book "Radical" he describes living a life that is totally committed to Jesus. He believes that the instructions, directions and examples Jesus gave to His disciples were not just meant for the first century but for all who accept Christ. David Platt understands that to be sold out to Jesus means that one may be labeled as a religious freak or religious radical. He is leading his church and many others into radical abandonment for Jesus in an attempt to spread the gospel to all nations as we are told in Mathew 28:18-20. He challenges Christians to what he calls the one year "Radical Experiment". Angie and I have accepted this challenge and God is already blessing our lives more than you can imagine. The "Radial Experiment is as follows; Over the next year.....

1. Pray for the entire world
2. Read through the entire Word
3. Sacrifice our money for a specific purpose for Christ
4. Spend time in another context (such as international missions)
5. Commit our lives to a multiplying community

Jesus commanded us to love our neighbors, to be His witnesses and to make disciples of all nations. Dr. Platt believes that radical surrender, radical obedience, radical giving, radical going and radical serving is what Jesus expects from us and if we were all following the commands of Christ this type of life-style wouldn't be called radical at all. I want to be that kind of Christian.

Angie and I also found that Francis Chan "Got it" long before we did. He wrote a short book named "Crazy Love" that describes and gives awesome biblical examples of what our love for Jesus should look like. Francis Chan is the pastor of Cornerstone Church in Simi Valley, California. I used to think that California was only the land of fruits and nuts until I read what God is doing through Cornerstone Church and Francis Chan. In his book "Crazy Love", Chan describes the kind of love and compassion that Jesus displayed and how far we have drifted from that kind of love for Him and for others. After reading the book I felt so worthless and so ashamed.

Just after the Holy Spirit convicted Angie and I of the tremendous sin in our lives and just after we fell to our knees and begged for forgiveness, God showed us New Providence Baptist Church. Somehow we were then introduced to "Radical" and "Crazy Love" all in a couple of months. We did receive forgiveness, we joined New Providence and we read both books. God has since presented us with opportunities such as The Good News to share His love with others. We hope to start a small group bible study soon and will continue to serve locally and through missions. We hope to encourage other Christians to make a radical change for the sake of our community. You don't have to go to our church, we can serve together wherever God leads us.

Here is an awesome invitation: Pastor Mark Caldwell of New Providence Baptist Church is beginning a series of messages based on the Bible and the book "Crazy Love" by Francis Chan. The series will be every Sunday night beginning February 12th at 6:00 P.M. For those of you who don't know our pastor, I'll just say he needs no fire lit beneath him. Preacher Mark is a dynamic pastor that brings excitement, and urgency to the pulpit. He preaches God's Word without hesitation or reservation and I am confident that the "Crazy Love" series will change some lives for Christ, maybe yours.

There's no cost for the series but the book is ten bucks. (five dollars to download from amazon) There will be some books at the church or you can grab one at Life-way. If needed, I will buy a book for you, just come. New Providence is located at the big white cross on I-75 at Sugar Limb Road. Send any questions to me at jeffviitoe@yahoo.com or call me at (865) 680-0344. Come see what it really means to love like Jesus. I can't wait!
