Ruth McIntry is a career educator who has the unusual distinction of having been both a teacher and administrator in pre-school, elementary, middle school, high school and college. It was in her early career that Ms. McIntry incorporated story telling to influence behavior and teach a variety of principles. She is a world traveler, and in each country visited, presents a story telling program for the populace. She is also a recipient of the prestigious Fulbright Teaching Fellowship.

Rick Elliott, former high school teacher and coach, hails from Gatlinburg. As he says, "Growing up in what I now realize was an Appalachian family, I assumed everyone could tell a story. Heck, no family gathering was complete without our entire family sitting in the kitchen swapping tales about Uncle Jack, Cousin Dee or the latest revelation, adventure, or catastrophe that had transpired that week."

Tellico Tales will be held Friday, March 8 at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Tellico Village, 205 Choata Rd., Loudon. Tickets, for sale at the door, are only
