Ldn man charged with hindering creditor after car crushed

Investigator Jeff Russell arrested a young Loudon man following an investigation into allegations the man sold a car to a salvage yard where it was crushed, even though he still owed more than $3000 on it and never contacted the dealership it rightly belonged to.

According to a warrant filed by Investigator Jeff Russell, LCSO CID; on December 18, 2012, James Matthew Kiser took

Odell

Officer E. Lawson, LCPD responded to Walmart in reference to a shoplifter. Upon arrival the officer made contact with asset protection and they advised they had observed Tara Rochelle Odell conceal items.

Asset protection observed Ms. Odell take several make up items and conceal them in her purse. She then went to the children's area where she concealed more cosmetics.

Ms. Odell then went through the self-check out and purchased other items and exited the store without paying for the concealed merchandise.

The items were recovered and the value was $70.32.

Tara Rochelle Odell, 22, of Dogwood Valley Road, Kingston, was charged with theft under $500. Officer E. Lawson, LCPD made the arrest.

 the warrant, a trustee was assisting Deputy Snow with serving lunch. When the victim, a trustee, was handing inmate Hollie Key her sandwich, inmate Key grabbed the victim by the hand and stated "I know what you did," and "You know what you done," to the victim.

When the officer went into F Block to instruct inmate Hollie Deanne Key to keep her hands and her threats to herself, she advised the officer she wasn't afraid of her, or the officer, and she would get the victim.

Hollie Deanne Key, 40, of Stinnett Road, Lenoir City was charged with assault.

Deputy Olwin Norman, LCSO made the arrest.

Records indicate Key was charged with sell and delivery conspiracy and introduction into a penal facility, both felonies, on January 25, 2013, after she appeared at the scene of a traffic stop where the man she was supposed to meet for methadone wafers had just been arrested on drug charges. Trooper Eric Miller reported Key asked to take possession of the man's vehicle, even though it was being inventoried prior to tow.

Imagine the following scenario: You are getting ready for work tomorrow morning when the words, "Breaking News" roll across the screen in HUGE print. You stop in front of the screen just in time to see the live video feed; the camera pans down to reveal a huge pit with smoke rolling out of it and a bright orange glow like a river of lava can be seen with people in it and they are screaming and yelling for help..... but we cannot help them. Hell has been discovered and there is real live video footage coming into your living room to show you the reality of this horrible destination.

All of the sudden it hits you.... Wait a minute!! Hell is real and there are real people suffering within it but they don't burn up? You mean they really can't get out?

Competition

All Tennessee K-12 students are invited to compete in the 2013 Federal Junior Stamp art competition. The Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency serves as a partner in the contest which is sponsored by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Tennessee has been involved in the project since 1995. Florida piloted the first local contest in 1989. The program grew rapidly, and now all states and the District of Columbia participate. Entries are accepted through school (public or private), home school, or on your own.

The Junior Duck Stamp Program is also a conservation program designed to teach children about waterfowl and the value of wetlands. The dividends for program participation have proven tremendous.

Since the inception of the program, educators and parents have recounted the many ways it has had an immeasurable impact on their students. Students have also increased their observation skills, made great improvements in other academic areas, increased self-esteem and some have launched a career in art.

Jet Smith, of Ooltewah, was the Best of Show winner in the 18th annual contest. A 10th grade student last year, Jet depicted a female and male king eider and used colored pencils in his winning artwork he titled "In Royal Company."

There were 11 other finalists for the Best of Show as a result of their first place award. Three first place winners were awarded for each division. An awards ceremony was held at the Bass Pro Shops location in Nashville in May.

How to enter the 2013 competition

All entries for the Tennessee art competition are due on March 15, 2013. Click here to print the rules and entry form for this free competition. Please keep in mind two key rules. First, the species of waterfowl you draw must be a native North American duck, goose, or swan. Second, all entries must be drawn horizontally and be nine inches high by 12 inches wide.

Soon after the annual entry deadline, the artwork is judged by a panel of experts. The judges change each year, but the panel typically includes a combination of waterfowl biologists, artists, and natural resource professionals.

The art is separated into four grade groups (K-3, 4-6, 7-9, and 10-12), and each group is judged independently. Once the first place winners for each group have been selected, they are viewed again to select a single Best of Show for the state.

Entries may be sent to the following address:

Fields was stopped for a registration violation.

Fenneth Justin Fields, 18, of East Second Avenue, Lenoir City was charged with driving without a license.

According to the report, Officer B. Gentry, LCPD was dispatched to the area of Hwy 321 and Lenoir City led to a call of a reckless driver.

The officer located the vehicle on Hwy 321 and followed it for approximately 500 yards before stopping it for a registration violation.

A check showed the driver, Mr. Fields had no license. Officer B. Gentry, LCPD made the arrest.

You can hear thousands of them begging for some kind of relief but none comes. There is no help for them. They are doomed to spend eternity in that horrible place because they chose to reject Jesus Christ and you just saw it for yourself!

If the scenario I just described were to actually unfold on the morning news, what would you do? What impact would that have on your decisions today? What changes would you be willing to make in your life to avoid spending the next ten billion years in such a horrible place? Would you then believe that each of us will spend eternity in heaven or in hell? Would you take a closer look at what it truly means to be a Christian?

"Breaking News"

Luke 16:19-31 (NKJV)
 (19) There was a certain rich man who was clothed in purple and fine linen and fared sumptuously every day. (20) But there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, full of sores, who was laid at his gate, (21) desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table. Moreover the dogs came and licked his sores. (22) So it was that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels to Abraham's bosom. The rich man also died and was buried. (23) And being in torment in Hades, he lifted his eyes and saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. (24) Then he cried and said, "Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame." (25) But Abraham said, "Son, remember that in your lifetime you received your good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things; but now he is comforted and you are tormented. (26) And besides all this, there is a great gulf fixed, so that those who want to pass from here to you cannot, nor can those from there pass to us." (27) Then he said, "I beg you therefore, father, that you would send him to my father's house, (28) for I have five brothers, that he may testify to them, lest they also come to this place of torment." (29) Abraham said to him, "They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them." (30) And he said, "No, father Abraham; but if one goes (see TGN ctd. pg. 7)

No License

Jorge Gonzalez Espinoza, 19, of Maremont Parkway, Loudon, was charged with suspended license and financial responsibility.

According to the report, Sgt. Eddie Range, LCPD stopped a vehicle for a window tint violation and a check showed the driver, Mr. Espinoza had a suspended license for failure to satisfy out of Blount County.

Espinoza also had no insurance. Sgt. Eddie Range, LCPD made the arrest.

to them from the dead,

they will repent." (31) But he said to him, "If they don't want to hear Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one rise from the dead."

According to the word of God, both places do exist. This means you and I will each spend eternity in one of the two. Which is it for you? Have you accepted Jesus or have you rejected Him?

The rich man had a nice home, plenty of food and lots of "stuff", yet he walked by Lazarus every time he passed through his gate without a second thought. The love of Jesus was not in him and he cared for no one but himself. That is, until the moment it was too late!

Just as the rich man and his brothers knew of Moses and knew of the prophets that preached repentance, you and I know what it means to be a Christian. We have heard the gospel of Jesus being proclaimed in our ears... yet some choose not to listen, just as the rich man.

To those who claim to be believers... would the news cast described above have convicted you of any unforgiven sin standing between you and God today? Can the lost person that you know and love, see Jesus in your life? Are you satisfied with your walk with Christ? If not, wouldn't today be a great day to really start following Jesus? Wouldn't you like to be found making disciples when Jesus returns?

If you have never accepted Jesus and never experienced the awesome presence of the Holy Spirit of God, then you are eventually going to meet the former rich man in the story from Luke 16. Regardless of who you are, regardless of what you have or where you live; if you have not accepted Jesus as your personal Savior before the day that you die or the day that Jesus returns... you will spend eternity in the depths of hell.

Revelation 20:15 (NKJV) And if anyone's name was not found in the book of life, he was thrown into the lake of fire.

There is hope, however, found in Romans 10:13 - "Whosoever calls on the name of the Lord shall be saved."
