A Hispanic man jailed in recent days on a charge of making false 911 calls where he allegedly claimed to be an investigator has been taken into custody again after making more calls where he portrayed himself as a law enforcement officer. He reportedly was found to have been in possession of several illegal pieces of identification when taken into custody on the additional charges.

According to the warrants filed by Agent Brendan Deboer, 9th DTF; Ernest Zerbanates Rodriguez aka Ernest Nombrano placed numerous 911 calls to the Loudon County 911 center. During these calls, Rodriguez identified himself as a Knoxville Investigator that couldn't stay to talk with respond-

In the song, "The Climb," made popular by Miley Cyrus, life gives us struggles that have to be overcome. Sometimes these struggles feel like mountains, and sometimes the struggles seem to have no end. For victims of child abuse, the climb seems never-ending, but with your support they no longer feel lost. Instead, they have direction and will no longer be a victim of child abuse, rather they are survivors of child abuse! Your support makes the next step possible for every child victimized by physical abuse and/or sexual abuse. The Kids First CAC walks with and supports the child along that journey. Kari Watkins, the forensic interviewer at the Center, will sing this inspiring song.

David Posey of Keller and Williams Realty and Auction will again donate his services to the live auction, while Mort Massey of CAV Group donates his technical support services for the evening. The local group, Baker Creek band, back by popular demand, will provide pre-dinner entertainment.

Since 2002, your support has enabled us to provide services for over 2500 victims of child abuse. So, please join us and together we can make a difference in the lives of children by providing them an opportunity to climb those mountains which have so unjustly been put before them.

ing units attempting to locate him because he had to respond to a murder in Knoxville.

Rodriguez was arrested for placing false 911 calls and after his arrest was read his rights and agreed to speak with investigators.

Rodriguez stated he did in fact call 911 and that he did identify himself as a Knoxville investigator because he thought they would take him more seriously. When Rodriguez was arrested he was found to be in possession of a fugitive recovery badge, a pair of handcuffs and two handcuff keys. Agents believe that Rodriguez has an obsession with being a law enforcement officer and has gone to some extremes to portray himself as such.

In another warrant, when agents from the 9th DTF and LCPD served a felony warrant at a local hotel for a Hispanic male they believed at that time to be Ernest Nembrano, the subject was located and found to be in possession of two counterfeit state identification cards. One of the ID cards was from Tennessee and the other from California.

After further investigation it was found that subject's name was not Ernest Nembrano, which was displayed on the ID's with his picture. Following Miranda warnings it was found the subject had purchased the ID's on the "black market."

Ernest Zerbanates Rodriguez, aka Ernest Zerbanates/Cesar Rosales, 31, homeless was charged with criminal impersonation of a law enforcement officer and criminal simulation.

Cpl. Angi Martin, LCSO made the arrest.
