Suddath

Deputy Lisa Rolen conduct a strip search on her for her safety do to her level of intoxication approximately four hours after Suddath was taken into custody.

The lawman reported while Suddath was being searched, he searched the cell she had been house in and found a cellophane wrapper lying on the floor next to her mat. The cellophane contained a red pill believe to be morphine, a schedule II drug.

The officer further reported once the strip search was completed he advised Suddath of her Miranda Rights and she agreed to speak with him.

During the interview, Suddath pulled another cellophane from her right sock and it contained two pieces of orange film believed to be suboxone sublingual film, a schedule III drug.

sources Agency.

Kenneth T. Kelly, Austin C. Woodall, Samantha Leann McColl (all of Oliver Springs), Steven H. Daugherty (Petros), and Donovan Cade Godwin (Coalfield), pleaded guilty to charges placed after an investigation by Morgan County wildlife officer, Travis Buchanan. The investigation shows the large bull elk was shot by a .44 magnum rifle and a 12 gauge shotgun on Dec. 21, 2012 in the Prudential Hollow area located between Coalfield and Oliver Springs and that all five charged were involved in a conspiracy to hide the violation after the fact.

TWRA officials were notified about the location of the elk carcass by a concerned community member on Dec.

23. Following the investigation, charges placed against the poaching party members included hunting and killing an elk during a closed season, violation of center-fire weapon law, illegal possession of a wild elk, illegal transportation of a wild elk, and criminal conspiracy.

As a result of the plea agreements of the five guilty parties, almost $28,000 in fines, court costs and restitution were issued, 18 years of hunting privileges were suspended from the group and they received 14 years of suspended jail time and court supervised probation. Two firearms were declared contraband by the court. This case also set a state court precedent for restitution to the State of Tennessee for illegal taking of an elk at $5,000.

Jackson

the bottom of a deep ravine in some woods located off Vonore Road Saturday afternoon

A tip led police to Jackson's abandoned truck, found in the front yard of a home off Vonore Road on Thursday, then on Friday search crews began canvassing the area where the truck was found.

Jackson's wallet and one of his boots were found in the woods a few hundred yards from the truck.

Assistant Chief Deputy Jimmy Davis of the Loudon County Sheriff's Office indicated there were no signs of foul play, and that Jackson appeared to have died from exposure to the elements.

Officials said Jackson leaves behind a fiancé and a young son, whom friends and family told police he loved very much and never went a day without seeing.

An autopsy will be performed to determine an official cause of death.

the Ninth DTF conducted an operation where an undercover agent ordered six bindles (1/10ths of a gram) of heroin from two unknown persons from the Knoxville area. The persons said they would deliver the heroin to a gas station parking lot near the interstate on Highway 321 and advised they would be driving a jeep.

Records indicate the jeep arrived at the specified location and after parking, a male and female exited it and got into the agents car. The agent, posing as a drug buyer, negotiated a deal for six bindles of heroin for $200 and the drugs were handed over by the female, who was later identified as Kristin Crawley and the money was given to the male by the agent.

The male was later identified as Victor Shofner. Agent B. Burley made the arrest.

Leath

Chrysler Sebring sitting up an embankment facing towards Highway 11.

The officer reported the driver, Leath, was being questioned by EMS as to whether she needed medical attention and Leath refused medical care. When asked again Leath again decline treatment.

Leath's balance was unsure, her speech was slurred, she had blood-shot eyes and a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage emitting from her person.

Deputy Hutchens

noted he asked Leath to perform field sobriety tasks and she performed poorly. She was placed under arrest and read the implied consent advisement and she agreed to a blood test.

Records indicate when Leath's vehicle was inventories, two empty "Tall Boy" beer cans were found along with a bottle of whiskey with about 1/4 of its contents gone.

Leath was transported to the hospital to provide the blood sample, then was taken on to the Loudon County Jail.

Police Beat

Dean Robert Holt, 26, of Cynthia Lane, Knoxville was charged with simple possession of schedule VI and driving while revoked. According to the report, Officer Brandon Gentry, LCPD stopped a vehicle for a window tint violation. The driver, Mr. Dean Holt was found to have a revoked license. A search of the vehicle produced a small bag of a green leafy substance believed to be marijuana.
