What would you do? What would you give? What would your family give to find a way to curb the destructive draw to one more oxycodone, one more opiana, or one more hydrocodone?

As most of you know, I am employed as a narcotics investigator. I have served in law enforcement for over eighteen years in this area. I have investigated robberies, homicides, suicides, accidental overdose deaths, theft, burglaries, child abuse, drug dealing and many other offenses during my career (see TGN pg. 4) as a detective. I don't cite my investigative resume in a bragging fashion, but only to establish that I have a pretty good idea of what is destroying our families. Outside of my professional experience, I have also dealt with the devastating effects of prescription medication abuse in and around my own family. I believe each person reading today has somehow been affected either directly or indirectly by this problem at some point in their lives. I am convinced that the addiction to pills is the driving force behind the majority of the crimes, broken homes and neglected children in our region and across the country.

I realize that most of the folks who are affected so greatly by this epidemic do not have the resources to go spend a year in a facility designed to "cure" the desire for pills. The question I ask you today has probably been asked at hundreds of kitchen tables and conference tables all over our state..... What can we do to help folks get off these pills?

We can put them all in jail

but pills get smuggled in there as well. We can send them across the state to live with extended family but pills are just as easily obtained in almost every state of our nation. We can shut down the pain clinics but new ones open every day under a new name. So what is the answer? How will we ever fix this problem?

Let me ask this question to the folks who are struggling with pill addiction; If you really want to shake the addiction, if you really want to get your kids back, if you really want to regain your self-reliance and dignity, have you even considered the possibilities of what Christ is capable of? Has it crossed your mind even one time as you read The Good News articles week after week that maybe..... just maybe... there is something to this power of Jesus that I speak about so often?

Now, to the family members of those struggling so hard with this problem; have you knelt before an Almighty God and prayed for them daily? Have you encouraged them to seek God and trust in Him for strength? Have you raised them to know Jesus and lived a Godly example in front of them. Can they see the true power of God working in and through your own life? If not, are you ready to start today? Are they not worth it? Is God not worth it?

Folks God hasn't failed us; we as Christians have failed Him. We do not see God because we do not seek God. I see both men and women on the street regularly who tell me that they read this article and enjoy it. I have people tell me that they will come to church with me but they never make it. I see people hurting, needing a miracle, but they never seek the Great Physician.

I share the gospel here every week and rarely see any fruits of this labor. God never promised me that I would see anything; He said GO, make disciples and this is one way that I am trying to obey His commandment to me as a Christian. My fear is that people will say it is good that God has changed the Vittatoe's lives but never realize what God is trying to do in their own life. This power I speak of changes lives, it gives life, it gives eternal life and you can have it!

God really did part the seas for His people to escape the pursuit by Pharaoh's army. God really did send food down from heaven to feed His people each day. God really did protect Daniel from being eaten by lions and He really did protect Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego from the fiery furnace.

During Jesus' time on earth He really did heal the sick, give sight to the blind, raise the dead, and cast out demons from possessed men. He really did love you and me so much that He gave His life on that cross and God really did raise Him from the dead. He then really ascended to heaven and is hoping that you will trust in Him. Jesus came to seek and save those who are lost.

Jesus is truly living within my heart and He has drastically changed my life. I have shared many times the things He has rescued me from and how my desires and thoughts have even changed since I trusted Him completely. I am not the same person I was two years ago!

You want a cure for pill sickness? You want to experience a brand new life with joy unthinkable and possibilities that are endless? Do you REALLY want to be rescued from that addiction, get a real job, get your babies back home, have a relationship with those who love you and maybe even have an impact on someone else along the way? Do you really want to spend eternity with Jesus as opposed to the alternative?

How about this; why don't you talk about today's article with someone else that you trust. Talk about it with your friends, family, children or whoever. Ask others if Jesus really has the power to deliver you from whatever is ruining your life. Then, come to New Providence Baptist with me on Sunday at 10:45 a.m. and hear God's word from someone other than me. After thorough research and thought you can decide for yourself how to respond to God.

You can email and ask questions anytime at jeffvittatoe@yahoo.com or ask me to call you or come share more about what Christ has done for you and what He wants to do now in your life. Jesus can rescue you from you! He loves you and He asked me to tell you to come just as you are.
