Simple Truths

This morning I got up to prepare this article before going to work. I have been very busy this week and was late submitting The Good News to Dan, the owner and publisher of The Daily Edition. I sat down and began to type what I thought was going to be a good word to share. About half way into the message I was typing, it hit me that I was in such a hurry that I hadn't prayed about it and hadn't considered asking God what He desired for someone to hear this week. I stopped and took a few minutes to ask the Lord for His guidance and His will for today's article.

TGN

Well, about the time I said amen, my computer shutdown for updates and returned without saving what I had been working on for quite a while. I concluded that God possibly didn't agree with my chosen topic so I went back to His word.

I found myself in the Book of Proverbs, which was written primarily by King Solomon nearly three thousand years ago. The words of encouragement, direction and guidance for daily living as described by Solomon in the following text are as true and valid today as they were the day this passage was originally written. Honestly compare these truths to your life as you read the Proverb and you may discover some areas that need a little improvement. I did.

Proverbs 3 (NKJV)

My son, do not forget my law, but let your heart keep my commandments, for length of days and long life and peace they will add to you. Let not mercy and truth forsake you; bind them around your neck; write them on the tablet of your heart. And so find favor and high esteem in the sight of God and man.

Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct your paths.

Do not be wise in your own eyes; fear the Lord and depart from evil. It will be health to your flesh and strength to your bones.

Honor the Lord with all your possessions and with the first fruits of your increase; So your barns will be filled with plenty, and your vats will overflow with new wine.

My son, do not despise the chastening of the Lord, Nor detest His correction; For whom the Lord loves He corrects, just as a father the son in whom he delights.

Happy is the man who finds wisdom, and the man who gains understanding, for her proceeds are better than profit from silver and her gain better than fine gold. She is more precious than rubies, and the things you may desire cannot compare with her. Length of days is in her right hand; in her left hand riches and honor. Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace. She is a tree of life to those who take hold of her; and happy are all who retain her.

The Lord by wisdom founded the earth; by understanding He established the heavens; by His knowledge the depths were broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew. My son, let them not depart from your eyes- keep sound wisdom and discretion, so they will be life for your soul and grace for your neck.

Then you will walk safely in your way, and your foot will not stumble. When you lie down, you will not be afraid;

Yes, you will lie down, and your sleep will be sweet.

Do not be afraid of sudden terror, nor of trouble from the wicked, when it come; for the Lord will be your confidence and will keep your foot from being caught.

Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due, when it is in your power of your hand to do so. Do not say to your neighbor, "Go, and come again tomorrow I will give it" - when you have it with you.

Do not devise evil against your neighbor, for he dwells by you for safety's sake.

Do not strive with a man without cause, if he has done you no harm.

Do not envy the oppressor, and choose none of his ways, for the perverse person is an abomination to the Lord, but His secret council is with the upright.

The Lord's curse of the Lord is on the house of the wicked, but He blesses the home of the just.

Surely He scorns the scornful, but gives grace to the humble.

The wise shall inherit glory, but shame shall be the legacy of fools.

God's word is jam packed full of information that God wants each of us to know. If we each try today to be a little better to each other and a little closer to the Lord than yesterday, imagine how the world would look next week, next month or even next year! I am thankful that God loves you and me so much that He created us in His own image, sent His Son Jesus to die for us and then raised Him from the dead. I praise Him for giving us a Bible that He inspired and that we can use to know Him better and understand what being a follower of Christ should look like.

I pray that if you have never trusted in Christ and believed on Him for salvation that you will consider the love that Jesus has for you. He can change your life, change your circumstances and secure your soul for eternity with Him if you ask Him to. Solomon figured out that a successful and satisfying life must be centered on God and I have experienced this to be true as well. How about you friend? Do you know Jesus? Have you placed your faith and trust in Him? If so, is it obvious in your life, your thoughts, your words and your deeds? I pray that it is.
