New Top Ten Fugitive Help Us Catch a Killer

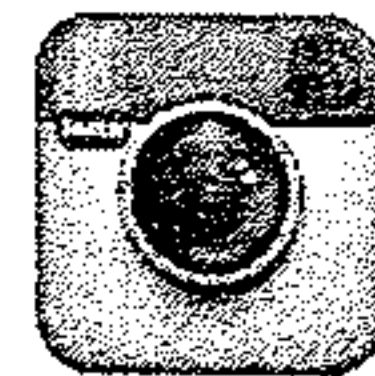

A Wisconsin man wanted for a double homicide is the newest addition to the FBI's Ten Most Wanted Fugitives list, and a reward of up to $100,000 is being offered for information leading to his capture.

Terry A.D. Strickland, a 24-year-old Milwaukee resident, is charged with fatally shooting two men last July during a fight outside the house where he rented a room. After the murders, he fled the scene, abandoning his 18-month-old daughter.

"We don't know all the details surrounding the shooting and what prompted it," said Special Agent Chad Piontek, who is investigating the case from the FBI's Milwaukee Division, "but we know that Strickland is extremely dangerous and he is a threat to the community."

Upon arrival Greenback Fire Chief Ronnie Lett stated that a individual was burning in a field and that a green Ford Ranger pickup had sped away from the scene when he pulled up. The white male was attempting to flee the location with a large craftsman wrench in his hand. This Deputy stopped said male whom produced a Tn Drivers license that had the name of Russell on it. The male claimed to be Russell. This Deputy transported the male back to the scene where a large tote of copper wire, a red gallon gas can, and a roll of large gauge wire were hidden behind a hay bale. The male claimed the wire belonged to his uncle and also stated that his uncle had fled in the green Ford Ranger. The male then stated that his uncle was Ray, but he did not know how to contact him. There was a fire burning in the field that the male put out and admitted to starting , and then stated that he was going to burn the insulation off of the wire so he could sell it for scrap. One of the firemen on scene, Mr. John Mike Tarwater, recognized the tote and wire as his property and went home to verify that his property had been stolen, when he returned, he gave a written statement that said the items were covered up with a blue tarp behind his shed and now they were missing. The stolen items were released to their owner. A female arrived on scene to transport Mr. Christopher Dwight Clabough who had contacted her via cell phone, and identified the male claiming to be Russell as Christopher Clabough. This Deputy had dispatch send a picture of Mr. Clabough's Tn drivers license to him and asked the male if he was indeed Mr. Clabough. The male denied being Mr. Clabough. When Deputy asked why the male had bloodshot eyes and the odor of alcohol about his person (there was a empty beer can on the scene) the male stated that he had smoked marijuana a couple of hours earlier on this date. Mr Clabough was arrested and transported to the jail.

During transport he admitted to being Mr. Christopher Clabough. After Mr. Clabough was warned four times about introduction to th Loudon County Jail, he was found to have a syringe inside his anal region during searching at the jail. This did occur in Loudon County, Tn.

Governor Haslam, Commissioner Boyd Announce myNEXUS, Inc. to Expand in Greater Middle Tennessee
Health care IT company to create 260 jobs

Tennessee Gov. Bill Haslam, Economic and Community Development Commissioner Randy Boyd and myNEXUS®, Inc. CEO McArthur VanOsedale today announced that the health care information technology company will expand in Greater Middle Tennessee and create 260 new jobs.

“Tennessee’s strength in health care is a magnet for new startups like myNEXUS. But more importantly, our state has the workforce and business climate to allow these companies to grow and excel,” Haslam said. “We appreciate myNEXUS for choosing to expand in Williamson County. The creation of 260 new jobs by myNEXUS brings us closer to our goal of making Tennessee the No. 1 location in the Southeast for high quality jobs.”

“The Nashville region is a hub for health care companies and in Middle Tennessee the health care industry supports more than 250,000 jobs and generates nearly $39 billion in economic activity,” Boyd said. “As the health care industry evolves, innovation from companies such as myNEXUS will be important for the continued growth of this vital sector for Tennessee’s economy. On behalf of Team Tennessee, I’d like to thank myNEXUS for its commitment to bring hundreds of new jobs to Greater Middle Tennessee.”

MyNEXUS, the leader in post-acute technology and home-based services, partners with insurer clients to reduce the risks and costs associated with home-based health care services, ensuring members get the right care at the right time. Founded in 2014, myNEXUS uses a proven clinical model to help members heal at home and avoid common, costly readmissions to health care facilities.

“Providing individuals with more opportunities for home-based care is a rapidly growing segment of the health care system and is key in building healthier communities,” VanOsedale said. “Being a native Nashvillian, I am passionate about being a part of Nashville’s continued economic development, and myNEXUS is excited about being a contributor toward bringing career opportunities to the Greater Middle Tennessee area.”

MyNEXUS’ expansion is driven by new contracts and expanding business with current clients. The company will invest $1 million to expand its footprint in Greater Middle Tennessee.

Milwaukee Police Department officers responded to multiple reports of a shooting on the afternoon of July 17, 2016. The bodies of two men—ages 38 and 39—were found outside the residence where Strickland appeared to be living with his daughter.

According to witnesses, a group of approximately seven or eight men were in front of the residence arguing. Strickland entered the house and allegedly returned with a .40-caliber handgun and began shooting into the group. One man who attempted to stop the argument ended up on the ground, and Strickland reportedly stood over the unarmed victim and shot him repeatedly before turning and shooting another unarmed victim in the head. After the shooting, Strickland fled, leaving his daughter behind in the residence.

Strickland is 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs approximately 240 pounds, and has black hair and brown eyes. He has no known scars or tattoos. The fugitive has ties to Wisconsin, Illinois, and Indiana and is not known to have traveled outside the United States.

“The most recent information we have is that he might be in a Chicago suburb,” Piontek said, noting that the murder weapon was not recovered and it is likely that Strickland is armed.

Strickland is the 512th person to be placed on the FBI’s Ten Most Wanted Fugitives list, which was established in 1950. Since then, 479 fugitives have been apprehended or located—and 159 of them were captured or located as a result of citizen cooperation.

“We are asking for the public’s assistance to help us locate and apprehend Strickland before he hurts anyone else. There is no question that he is a danger to the community.” - Chad Piontek, special agent, FBI Milwaukee

“We are asking for the public’s assistance to help us locate and apprehend Strickland before he hurts anyone else,” Piontek said. “There is no question that he is a danger to the community. The fact that he abandoned his daughter while fleeing says a lot about his character.”

If you have information regarding Strickland, contact your local FBI office or the nearest U.S. Embassy or Consulate, or submit a tip on our website. Individuals should take no action themselves, Piontek said, adding that any information provided to the FBI can remain confidential.

“We are confident that the $100,000 reward will provide a great deal of incentive to someone with information about Strickland’s whereabouts,” Piontek said. “Even his friends and family should be frightened about the violence he is capable of.”

LCPD

Tessa King, 33, Loudon Ridge Road Loudon, was charged with Poss. of Drug Para.

Officer Brandon Johnson LCPD, was dispatched to the Exxon by I-75 in regards to a possible drug exchange. Officer was advised by dispatch that Tessa King would be in jeans and a coat inside the store waiting on another male to sell her narcotics. Ms. King would also have paraphernalia on her possession. Upon arrival Officer made contact with Tessa after a consent to search her belongings, following items were located: 2 smoking bowls, 1 bent spoon with residue. King was placed under arrest.

Haslam conc. from pg. 5

As part of the expansion, myNEXUS will hire additional staff for the company’s corporate office, including IT support, clinical operations and quality control. The majority of hires will be administrative support staff that will manage service delivery to members across the country.

Local officials applauded myNEXUS for its expansion in Brentwood and Williamson County.

“We are thrilled to see myNEXUS adding to its already strong presence in Williamson County,” Williamson County Mayor Rogers Anderson said. “MyNEXUS is a strong corporate partner who consistently gives back to the community, and we look forward to watching the company’s continued growth.”

“MyNEXUS is part of the health care industry as well as a strong entrepreneurial technology company,” Williamson, Inc. Chief Economic Development Officer Elizabeth McCreary said. “Both industries continue to grow and thrive in the diverse Williamson County economy. The fact that our wonderful existing businesses, such as myNEXUS, choose to stay and grow here is the reason why Williamson County has been the fastest growing large county for jobs in the country.”

Brentwood and Williamson County are represented by Sen. Jack Johnson (R – Franklin), Rep. Glen Casada (R – Franklin), Rep. Charles Sargent (R – Franklin) and Rep. Sam Whitson (R – Franklin) in the Tennessee General Assembly.
