For the fourth time in two and a half years, Loudon County court clerk, Lisa Niles, drug the county tax payers back to court trying to ring more money out of their pockets.

This is the ongoing law suit brought by Ms. Niles back in September of 2014 demanding more employees and higher pay for her current employees.

Almost exactly a year ago, Niles was in court demanding the same thing. Ultimately, the judge es-

At around 0310 hours the affiant observed a suspicious vehicle circling the area of the Kings Inn several times along with a white male running in the area, in an obvious attempt to avoid Law Enforcement. While in the area looking for the male who had ran, Affiant observed a 2009 Prius pull to the rear of the motel and park. A male exited the vehicle, went into a motel room, and returned with a female, later identified as Megan McCurry.

Believing the Prius was possibly involved with the male running and the other suspicious vehicle, contact was made with the Prius. Upon contact with the Prius Officer smelt the odor of marijuana coming from inside the vehicle. All occupants were removed from the vehicle and the defendant was read her Miranda rights by Officer C. Kirkpatrick. The defendant admitted to having in her possession a backpack that was located in the vehicle. The defendant admitted she carried the backpack from the motel room to the vehicle. Inside the backpack was located 377 grams (13.46

Murder

Melody Shaver, 47, Carding Machine Road Loudon, was charged with Criminal Court Capias (First Degree Murder).

Deputy Chance Gray was advised that Deputy M Vinsant was out at the jail with a female. Deputy then went to the booking area of the jail and served Ms. Melody Dawn Shaver with a active criminal court Capias on first degree murder docket# 2016-CR-267. This did occur at the Loudon essentially cut the baby in half and gave her two new employees. But that wasn't good enough for her. Niles appealed the judges first ruling ultimately leading the judge to throw out the first ruling. So back to court she goes.

County Jail, in Loudon County Tennessee without incident.

The judge heard from both sides at Tuesday's hearing. Essentially, it was just a replay of last December's hearing. The attorneys are to file their final documents by the 6th of January then the judge will make his ruling by mid to late January. Either side may appeal the judges order.

The entire law that allows Ms. Niles to use the courts to extort the tax payers is based on the fact that she can't operate her office without more help. But given that her lawsuit has dragged on for two and a half years, and the fact that she even came to commission to report how well her office was operating several months ago, it's hard to see how this is nothing but legal extortion of the tax payers.

Ms. Niles has proven beyond any doubt that she could care less for the tax payers she supposedly represents. It appears that the only way to stop this insanity will be to relieve her of her position in the next election.

ounces) of marijuana and scales.

The marijuana was packaged into approxi-

matly ten (10) individual containers.

A small baggie containing one (1) crushed suboxone pill, schedule III narcotic, was found inside the backpack also. The defendant was unable to provide a valid prescription for the suboxone. A small box containing a small amount of schedule VI Hash Oil was located inside the backpack. The defendant also possessed a 9MM handgun inside the backpack with the intent to go armed during the commission of Manufacture, sell, or delivery of a controlled substance. Through the course of our investigation we were able to determine the Prius had come to the area to give the male who had ran earlier a ride.

Left-wing journalists who supported Hillary Clinton now celebrate the brutal dictatorship of Fidel Castro, a communist tyrant who ran death squads against political enemies by Mike Adams, the Fidel Castro (NaturalNews) Fidel Castro, now dead at 90, was a communist tyrant who oppressed his people, ordered the deaths of his political enemies, and turned Cuba into such a human hell that tens of thousands of his own citizens risked their lives to flee the island nation in search of freedom.

Today, thousands of Cuban exiles who fled Castro's tyranny took to the streets in Miami to celebrate a world without Castro, reports the Miami Herald:

Fidel Castro died, and Cuban Miami did what it does in times of community celebration: It spilled onto the streets of Little Havana -- and Hialeah, and Kendall -- to honk horns, bang pans, and set off more than a few fireworks... The scene across

Miami-Dade County, the cradle of the Cuban exile community, was one of pure, raw emotion. This time, after decades of false alarms, Castro's death was real.

But members of the so-called "lamestream media" -- NYT, Wash-Post, CNN, MSNBC and so on-- celebrated the "achievements" of Castro, fawning over his tyrannical rule, dishing out heaps of praise for his "accomplishments."

In doing so, the commie-loving members of the lamestream media reveal themselves to be communist sympathizers who pose a real danger to the freedoms and liberties of America.

New York Times: Castro a "savior"

The New York Times, whose owner recently announced he would get the paper back to reporting accurate news after a year and a half of fabricating false accusations against Donald Trump, practically assigned sainthood to Castro, praising his defiance of the USA and describing him as a "savior" to the Cuban people. (Yes, the New York Times is run by communist sympathizers who genuinely hate liberty and who hope to turn the United States into a larger version of Cuba, run by a female tyrant like Hillary Clinton.)

Newsbusters compiled several more gushing love-fest comments about Castro from the left-wing media in the United States, quoting the "journalists" who even hailed Castro as a "George Washington!"

"Fidel Castro, who died late Friday night, was a tyrant who oppressed Cubans and brought misery to many for several decades and while much of the breaking news coverage emphasized that reality, journalists on ABC, CNN and MSNBC -- matching how too much of the media approached Castro for decades -- couldn't resist crediting him for supposed great advancements in education, literacy and health care," writes Newsbusters:

On MSNBC, Andrea Mitchell insisted in a stock bio that Castro "gave his people better health care and education." Appearing live by phone, she soon trumpeted how Castro "will be revered" for "education and social services and medical care to all of his people."

Along a similar theme, in an ABC Special Report during Nightline, Jim Avila maintained that "even Castro's critics praised his advances in health care and in education."

In a relatively tough report on Castro's abuses, CNN's Martin Savidge, in a pre-recorded bio piece, highlighted how "many saw positives, education and health care for all, racial integration."

A meandering Brian Williams popped up by phone on MSNBC to ruminate and recalled how in his last visit to Cuba, in 2015: "You see the medicine system they are very proud of."

ABC's Avila went so far as to tout how Castro "was considered, even to this day, the George Washington of his country among those who remain in Cuba."

Reminiscing about his high school years, via phone on MSNBC, Chris Matthews asserted that Castro was "a romantic figure when he came into power" and, Matthews wasn't embarrassed to relay, "we rooted like mad for the guy" who "was almost like a folk hero to Carla Gunderson, 60, Willington place Loudon, was charged with DUI.

Officer Pesterfield LPD, witnessed a purple subaru traveling on Maremont Prky. at a high rate of speed. Using his hand held radar Officer clocked the vehicle at 50 mph in a 30 mph zone. Officer got behind the vehicle on Maremont Pkwy. Officer witnessed the vehicle cross the double yellow line four times while on Maremont Prky. Officer observed the vehicle approach a stop sign at which time she continued on through the stop sign and came to a stop in the travel lane of Hwy 72. The vehicle then made a left turn on Hwy. 72 toward Hwy. 11 and traveled in the turn lane on Hwy 72. The vehicle then approached the intersection of Hwy. 72 and Hwy. 11 the vehicle then came to a sudden stop in the travel lane of Hwy. 72 before the turn lane. The vehicle then accelerated rapidly onto Hwy. 11 I initiated my emergency equipment at which time the vehicle suddenly swerved right almost wrecking into a ditch line coming to a stop. The vehicle then continued on approximately 25 yards and then came to a complete stop. I made contact with the driver Mrs. Carla Gunderson while speaking with her Officer noticed a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage coming from her person, also she had blood shot watery eyes, and slowed speech. Officer asked Mrs. Gunderson if she had been drinking to which she responded I had one beer. Within a few minutes Deputy asked her again to which she replied she had two beers at the VFW. Deputy asked her to step out of her vehicle and to walk to the front of Officer Nix's patrol vehicle. At this time Officer conducted standardized field sobriety test which I felt she performed poorly on. At this time Officer felt Mrs. Gunderson was driving under the influence. Officer placed Mrs. Gunderson in custody for driving under the influence at 22:02. Officer then read implied consent to her which she agreed to a breath sample. most of us."

Donald Trump gets it right: Castro was a "brutal dictator" who brought misery and suffering to millions

President-elect Donald Trump nailed the correct response to Castro by issuing a statement that said, "Today, the world marks the passing of a brutal dictator who oppressed his own people for nearly six decades... [The Castro regime was] one of firing squads, theft, unimaginable suffering, poverty and the denial of fundamental human rights."

As this Breitbart.com story explains, Trump is now calling for a "free Cuba" to end the era of suffering under a brutal dictator:

"While Cuba remains a totalitarian island, it is my hope that today marks a move away from the horrors endured for too long, and toward a future in which the wonderful Cuban people finally live in the freedom they so richly deserve," Trump said.

Trump promised that his administration would pursue a policy focused on freeing the Cuban people, and thanked the Cuban Americans who supported him for president.

"[O]ur administration will do all it can to ensure the Cuban people can finally begin their journey toward prosperity and liberty," he said. "I join the many Cuban Americans who supported me so greatly in the presidential campaign, including the Brigade 2506 Veterans Association that endorsed me, with the hope of one day soon seeing a free Cuba.

Left-wing media "journalists" really do worship totalitarian communist dictators... and they hope to turn America into a communist stronghold

Lest you have any doubts whatsoever about the real mission of the political left, its celebration of the life of a communist tyrant answers the question once and for all: Left-wing "journalists" are seditious, anti-American communist wannabes.

They literally celebrate brutal dictators and tyrants on the left. Cuba is the kind of world under which they hope to live, which is precisely why every single one of them, without exception, supported Hillary Clinton for President.

To the left, all crimes against humanity are acceptable if they carried out in the furtherance of liberal political ideology: Firing squads, the elimination of private property, the banning of guns in the hands of private citizens, the government confiscation of personal assets and a state-run media are all perfectly fine to them. In fact, they love it! They can't wait to turn America into a communist regime modeled after Cuba. Hence their labeling of Castro as their "George Washington."

Do I need to remind you that leftists who love communism are a grave danger to America? They deliberately seek to undermine democracy. For the last 18 months, left-wing journalists deliberately and maliciously lied day after day to try to put a commie-leaning politician into the White House. They despise democracy and they despise the voters. All they seek is total domination over the populace, even if liberty and freedom have to be crushed along the way.

This is why radio host Michael Savage says America must invoke the House Un-American Activities Committee (HUAAC) and investigate the anti-American traitors who are pretending to be journalists. If they are allowed to keep poisoning the minds of the American people, they may yet succeed in overthrowing the Republic and installing their own Castro-like dictatorship across America.

The nation was very nearly at that point until recently, come to think of it. The entire lamestream media is state-run media. "Journalists" who work for CNN, WashPost, NYT, etc., are almost all socialist or communist-leaning propagandists who deliberate try to undermine the U.S. Constitution, Bill of Rights and Electoral College. Now, they are determined to destroy the Trump presidency by any means possible, including fabricating fake news while attempting to censor all the independent REAL news by labeling it "fake news." (In other words, the lamestream media has lost the debate, so they must now turn to censorship to maintain their monopoly over "news.")
