LCPD's Jack Fine charges part time secretary with taking over $60,000 from Church

Police arrested a Kingston woman following an investigation into the theft over $60,000 from Lenoir City's Calvary Baptist Church, which occurred sometime during the two years since she had been hired as a part time financial secretary for the church.

Kimberly Denise Beason, 38, of 1319 Loudon Highway, Kingston, was charged with theft over $60,000 by Detective Jack Fine, LCPD.

Records indicate the arrest came after an investigation by the Lenoir City Police detective, which began on April 8, 2009 when the lawman met with the pastor and of members of Calvary Baptist Church to speak with Beason.

Beason

Detective Fine reported that around April 1, 2009 the church learned the Southern Baptist Association had received no money from Calvary and after investigating the complaint and thoroughly checking all bank drafts and deposits that over $69,000 had been taken from the church's bank account.

Beason was hired in February 2007 as a part time financial secretary for the church.

Beason was arrested at the Lodon County Jail on August 12, 2009 by Deputy Robert Gray, LCSO.

Wallace

was charged with driving on revoked license and simple possession of schedule VI marijuana.

According to records, around 1:30 a.m., Saturday, Officer Jonathan Yates, LPD observed a gray Mazda pull out of Wendys on Highway 72 at a high rate of speed with no exhaust. The vehicle displayed an expired tag.

The officer stopped the truck and identified the driver as Charlie Wallace. Officer Yates ran Wallace's license through dispatch and found it revoked for DUI.

Wallace was arrested and searched. A cigarette pack in his pocket reportedly contained a hand rolled cigarette with a green leafy substance believed to be marijuana, which weighed approximately 2 grams.

Wallace also had two outstanding warrants for his arrest served on him at the jail by Deputy Goddard, LCSO. A citation was issued for violation of registration.

Officer Yates made the arrest, and was assisted by Officer Brenden Deboer, LPD.

Police Beat

Meliton Elmer Miranda, 28, Browder Hollow Road, Lenoir City, was charged with two mittimus (driving on suspended license and failure to pay fines) Friday.

Patrolman James R. Bowman, LCPD made the arrest.

son, LCSO was dispatched to Jackson Bend Road in the area of the Bluffs to a report of a breaking and entering to a black 1997 Dodge Dakota. Upon arrival, the officer spoke to Mr. Corey O. Spoon, who advised he and his friend, Mr. Joshua Cusick, arrived at the Bluffs around 5:30 p.m. to swim. They went back to the vehicle approximately 30 minutes after arriving at the location.

Mr. Spoon advised when they returned to the vehicle, the passenger side window was knocked out and a large rock was in the driver's side seat. Both men discovered their wallets had been stolen.

The items listed as missing include a brown leather wallet, a black leather wallet, Mr. Spoon's drivers license, Mr. Cusick's drivers license, one silver Apple Ipad Nano, $17 cash and $10 cash.

The value of the loss was estimated at $317.

This case is under investigation by Lt. Patrick Upton, LCSO CID.

Process

countering problems across the state at many license agents. One of the primary problems arose because of a conflict between the printed application county code numbers and the corresponding numbers within the Point of Sale (POS) system. Sales on the internet appear to be processing as they should.

TWRA is currently working to get this issue resolved. "We plan to work with all hunters who attempted to obtain a permit this morning to get them the permit they were applying for," said Ed Carter, TWRA Executive Director. "We realize that time and travel were invested in their application requests and we sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this technical problem has caused."

TWRA has posted the corrected instruction form which includes the proper county codes for the turkey quota hunts on the agency Web site based on their final 2008 waste generation reporting data.

Rebates

Recycling rebates are made available to the 11 counties that generate the most waste in Tennessee, based on data reported for both landfilled and diverted waste. The rebate requires a dollar-for-dollar match, and may be used for establishing new programs and collection sites, preparing recyclable materials for transport, marketing and developing educational programs to promote and advertise recycling.

A total of $300,000 is available for recycling rebates from the Solid Waste Management Fund for fiscal year 2009-2010, with funds allocated to county and municipal governments based on county waste generation data and population. The Solid Waste Management Fund is comprised of tipping fee surcharges at Tennessee landfills and tire pre-disposal fees. The 11 counties eligible to share the current pool of funding include Davidson, Hamilton, Knox, Loudon, Madison, Montgomery, Rutherford, Shelby, Sullivan, Sumner and Williamson Counties.

All counties and municipalities must return an application to the Department of Environment and Conservation to receive the rebate funds. Each municipality has the option of retaining the rebate or surrendering its rebate funds to the county, and each county may surrender its rebate funds to a municipality if it handles the recycling for the county.

If a municipality fails to respond, its funds will be made available to the county. If the county does not respond, the funds are returned to the Solid Waste Management Fund.

For more information about recycling rebates and other solid waste assistance programs, visit www.tn.gov/environment/swm/grants. Below is a complete list of the recycling rebates available Loudon County and its municipalities.

Loudon - $6,935.00; Philadelphia - $132.00; Lenoir City - $1,747.00;

Greenback - $242.00; Loudon (Town of) - $1,073.00; and Faragut - $1.00.
