Business E-Mail Compromise Cyber-Enabled Financial Fraud on the Rise Globally

Outline of how the business e-mail compromise is executed by some organized crime groups, from identifying a target to grooming to exchanging information to receiving a wire transfer from the victim.

Since 2013, when the FBI began tracking an emerging financial cyber threat called business e-mail compromise (BEC), organized crime groups have targeted large and small companies and organizations in every U.S. state and more than 100 countries around the world—from non-profits and well-known corporations to churches and school systems. Losses are in the billions of dollars and climbing.

At its heart, BEC relies on the oldest trick in the con artist's handbook: deception.

ALDI

The weather held off for a great opening day for the New ALDI in Lenoir City, located on Highway 321. The store had a line wrapped around it several hours before opening and they gave out all kinds of great stuff to a slew of people. The store also held drawings and offered discounts on just about everything in the store. The sales tax collected will be great for our city for sure because the lines were packed and the registers were ringing!

The store is filled with just a load of super cool items at great prices. The items you find at the Aldi range from produce to meats to chips and canned items. So whatever you need stop in the Aldi and check em out.

A special thank you to the store workers, and management for a great store opening and the really really nice bag of welcome items we received.

Our great city just got A Lot Darn nicer, welcome ALDI!
