Legion

Rene' McGill Schultz of the McGill Click Funerals and Cremations spoke to members of the American Legion Post 256 at their monthly breakfast. Ms Schultz has over 28 years in the Funeral Service business, a degree in business management, and holds a Tennessee state licenses in life, health and pre-need lines. Her background provided Legion Members with some valuable information and tools that will eventually assist them with plans for "end of life" services. As Rene' McGill Schultz mentioned, "Funeral service has changed rapidly in the last few years and flexibility has become very important; that is why our services offer guidance to help families in the local area make the right choice for their needs and budget." To find out more about end of life planning and pre-arranged programs visit McGillClick.com. To learn more about the American Legion contact Post 256 Commander Vic Vickery, 423-884-6476. All Veterans are encouraged to visit Post 256 at their new location, First Baptist Church of Tellico Village. Each month the Post has informative speakers and a delicious breakfast. Meetings are held on the first Thursday of the month at 9 am. For more information visit, www.TellicoLakePost256.org. (photo & article by James Patterson)

Maryville Tennessee Gov. Bill Haslam, Economic and Community Development Commissioner Bob Rolfe and SCCY Industries, LLC officials announced today that the firearms manufacturer is establishing a production facility and headquarters in Maryville.

SCCY is investing $22.5 million to build a new facility in Blount County that will create more than 350 new jobs. SCCY's new Maryville location will be the company's primary manufacturing operation and also include its corporate offices.

“In Tennessee, we pride ourselves on craftsmanship and manufacturing excellence,” Haslam said. “Our skilled workforce is known for producing some of the world’s best-known products and brands. I’m pleased that SCCY has chosen to join the growing roster of manufacturing companies that call Tennessee home. The creation of over 350 new jobs with this investment brings us closer to our goal of making Tennessee the No. 1 location in the Southeast for high quality jobs.”

“It’s critical for the continued growth of Tennessee’s economy to attract high quality companies that create valuable jobs for our residents,” Rolfe said. “I’d like to welcome SCCY to Tennessee and look forward to its future role among the many important industries that provide Blount County citizens with meaningful job opportunities.”

SCCY, which specializes in manufacturing pistols and side-arms, will construct a 150,00-square-foot facility in Blount County’s Big Springs Industrial Park. The location is expected to be operational in the first half of 2018.

Dui

Harley Miller, 19, Gateway Circle Philadelphia, was charged with DUI, Resisting Arrest, and Underage Possession of Alcohol. Officer Jonathan Yates LPD, observed a red truck traveling at an extremely high rate of speed on Hwy 72 headed west. The vehicle was traveling well over 80 in a 45 zone. Officer activated lights and sirens to attempt to catch the truck. The vehicle finally yielded at Queener Road. Officer approached the vehicle, given the drivers reckless and excessive speed, attempted to make an arrest. Officer approached as the vehicle rolled to a stop. Officer gave verbal commands to stop and raise his hands. Officer open the driver door because driver would not show his hands and appeared to be hiding something. Officer detected the odor of intoxicants coming from the vehicle as the driver was trying to hide a beer. Officer handcuffed one hand and told him he was under arrest. Miller then started pulling away from Officer attempting to get away with the vehicle in gear. Officer removed Miller from the vehicle and took him to the ground, where he was able to handcuff him. Miller continued to curse, pull away and be verbally combative towards Officer. Miller was banging his head on the window and was placed in isolation at the jail, where he continued to try and bang his head on the window. Miller blew a .137 the first time and .135 the second.

has been searching for a new home for many years due to our explosive growth in the shooting sports industry," Joe Roebuck, SCCY founder and CEO, said. "We exhaustively searched many states. After doing so, I found Tennessee to be one of the top manufacturing states and, in my opinion, No. 1 in the East. I have owned and operated several manufacturing companies during my career as a product developer and businessman. Success all comes down to people, and Tennessee seems to boast good old-fashioned American work ethic. I am honored to call Blount County, Tennessee SCCY's new home."

Local officials and the Tennessee Valley

Authority applauded SCCY for its investment in Blount County.

"Once again, Blount County has proven to be an attractive location for a large-scale operation," Blount County Mayor Ed Mitchell said. "We welcome SCCY's investment in the community. Its outstanding leadership, along with the commitment to add 350 jobs with above average salaries to the economy, makes this a win for the county."
