was John Little and he had no ID. Deputy ask for his SS number. Deputy ask William to step out of the vehicle to ask him more investigative questions. The passenger look like he was trying to hide something in the vehicle. Deputy ask Nolen to exit the vehicle, he later stated he had a warrant out of Knox. Co. and his real name was Jerry Nolen. Mr. Nolen was placed under arrest, when placed in the vehicle Nolen started kicking the cage causing damage to the vehicle. Deputy ask to search the vehicle, William gave consent, Deputy located half marijuana blount, 2 baggies of marijuana, and about 10 syringes. William Distefano was placed under arrest.

Ronni Chandler and Jackie Clay to discuss links between race, poverty, and education

Educators, teachers, and students encouraged to attend this month's Books Sandwiched In

Knox County Public Library invites the public to join Jackie Clay, Executive Director, Free Medical Clinic of Oak Ridge, and Ronni Chandler, Director of Project Grad Knoxville, to a discussion of Rac(e)ing to Class: Confronting Poverty and Race in Schools and Classrooms by Richard A. Milner IV, at noon on Wednesday, July 26 in the East Tennessee History Center auditorium.

Books Sandwiched In is sponsored by the Friends of Knox County Public Library. Attendees may bring lunch. Drinks are available to purchase.

"We really want teachers, parents and students to attend and join the conversation," Nicole Barajas, Co-Coordinator of the series said. "So we rescheduled it for the summer."

"Rac(e)ing to Class re-centers discourse on poverty AND race," Chandler said. "There is often a greater comfort level inside and outside of education to talk about poverty, while race is an uncomfortable--even taboo--topic. But, BOTH poverty and race are impacting the educational experiences of our most vulnerable and marginalized students who depend on school for so much more than academic success. Community conditions and national events are influencing our children. Right here in Knoxville."

In addition to her position as Executive Director of the Free Medical Clinic of Oak Ridge, Clay is a Field Instructor with UT's College of Social Work. She previously served as Program Manager in the City of Knoxville Mayor's Office, including the Trouble in download transactions into QuickBooks 2017

Accounting software for small and medium-sized businesses to make their transactions easy and grow their business faster.

QuickBooks performs it smoother for users to trade with their companies and businesses in a well-planned process, at any time and from anywhere. Users can surely keep a report of some their sales transactions, tax acquisitions, Exchanges, Values, etc.

It encourages users to record their features of projects at a single program. It might appear that while applying QuickBooks, the user may locate it a little complex to work or they can discover few errors which can grow a barrier for them. It has 24x7 working, QuickBooks Support Phone Number for its users to resolve their software issues and queries.

There is a very good feature in QuickBooks of downloading transactions from their financial institution. For downloading transactions, we have to connect our QuickBooks to our bank with one user id and password.

There are two ways to download transactions:-

1) Web connect – In this method, we download our bank information/transactions from bank's website in QBO format and import it into QuickBooks

2) Direct connect: - In this method, main banks are listed in QuickBooks. User just has to enter his/her bank user id and password to download transactions into QuickBooks by linking their account.

Setup in QuickBooks Make sure QuickBooks release should be updated, and log in with Admin user id and password.

Check all permission of that user

Check data range of download transactions because some banks provide last 90 days transactions to download.

UAC should be turned on of your system.

Only one QuickBooks data file should be open.

Network connection should be established while connect QuickBooks with your bank, It may be caused by a damaged QuickBooks.

Refresh before troubleshooting:-

Back up your Company file on your external hard drive.

Run Reboot.bat file from program data folder.

Restart your computer and try to connect again.

Note: If nothing works, you can directly call QuickBooks helpline number to fix your software error.

Troubleshooting Steps:-

When you get an error 'QuickBooks already open'.

Close your QuickBooks all down and open it again

Close QuickBooks completely.

Shutdown all QuickBooks related processes from task manager.

Close QuickBooks from quick startup as well.

Restart your PC and open QuickBooks again Feature Articles, then try to connect with your bank.

Note- For any more problems or unable to get any step please call our technician at QuickBooks Helpline Number to fix.

Truth and Consequences: Navigating facts, filter bubbles and fake news

Knox County Public Library to partner with UT's College of Communications and Information on a multi-day symposium to explore the reality of today's news and information environments

In this "post-truth" era, how and what should we believe? Between partisan news, filter bubbles, and algorithms acting as information curators, media literacy and critical thinking are more important than ever. Join Knox County Public Library and UT's College of Communications and Information for a deep dive into the truth of fake news, the ubiquitous use of big data captured through search engines, the impact of 24 hour breaking news, the decline of critical thinking and what we can do about it. Free unless otherwise indicated.

New York Times best selling author, Wendell Potter will headline the event. As a former corporate public relations executive and a journalist, he has founded Tarbell.org, a reader-supported news organization that examines how moneyed interests touch the lives of average Americans. A Tennessean by birth, Potter who earned UT's highest honor of Torch Bearer, has covered Congress, the White House and Supreme Court for Scripps-Howard newspapers. After a long career in Public Relations in the health insurance industry, he had a crisis of conscience in 2008 and blew the whistle on a corrupt industry in his book, Deadly Spin.

Registration for all events is encouraged at www.knoxlib.org/truth or by calling 215-8767

Truth and Consequences Symposium is made possible through a grant from the Jane L. Pettway Foundation and the Knox County Public Library Foundation. Continuing Education Credit will be available.

Secretary Price Appoints Brenda Fitzgerald, M.D., as CDC Director and ATSDR Administrator

On Friday, July 7th, Health and Human Services Secretary Tom Price, M.D., named Brenda Fitzgerald, M.D., as the 17th Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and Administrator of the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (ATSDR).

"Today, I am extremely proud and excited to announce Dr. Brenda Fitzgerald as the new Director of the CDC," said Secretary Price. "Having known Dr. Fitzgerald for many years, I know that she has a deep appreciation and understanding of medicine, public health, policy and leadership—all qualities that will prove vital as she leads the CDC in its work to protect America's health 24/7. We look forward to working with Dr. Fitzgerald to achieve President Trump's goal of strengthening public health surveillance and ensuring global health security at home and abroad. Congratulations to Dr. Fitzgerald and her family."
