Meth

James McMahan, 22, Pine Grove Street Loudon, was charged with Mfg/Del/Sale of Poss. of Meth, and Driving on Revoked/Suspended License.

Deputy Kevin Dailey LCSO, observed a silver Acura going 41 mph in a 35 mph zone with use of moving radar on Lakeland Rd at Lake Forest Dr. Upon traffic stop at Beals Chapel Rd Deputy came in contact with the driver James McMahan and (passenger/car owner). Owner had been drinking where he had Mr. McMahan driving his car. Owner did state Mr. McMahan had his vehicle all day borrowing it, however dispatch did advise Mr. McMahan had a suspended drivers license.

After taking Mr. McMahan into custody, owner consented to a vehicle search where Deputy found 2 shards of Crystal Meth in the drivers seat where Mr. McMahan had been sitting. During the search Deputy located Mr. McMahan's wallet in the drivers door where Deputy found a baggie of Crystal Meth consistent with what was in the drivers seat. He was transported to the jail without incident, with the vehicle remaining on scene due to them arriving at where the owner was staying. This all did occur in Loudon County, Marcus Reagan, 44, Black Road Greenback, was charged with DUI.

Deputy K. Palmer LCSO, observed a Gold Toyota 4 Runner traveling North on Highway 411. Deputy observed the vehicle had a taillight out. Deputy stopped the vehicle at the Dollar General on Highway 411. Deputy made contact with the driver Mr. Marcus Reed Reagan. While speaking with Mr. Reagan he could smell a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage emitting from the vehicle. Deputy also observed Mr. Reagan had red glassy eyes. Deputy asked Mr. Reagan how much he had to drink at which time he stated none. Deputy asked Mr. Reagan to exit the vehicle. While speaking with Mr. Reagan I could smell a strong odor emitting from his person. Deputy asked Mr. Reagan again if he had something to drink at which time he stated earlier around 2 O'clock. Deputy asked Mr. Reagan if he was willing to do some field sobriety task at which time he stated yes. Mr. Reagan did perform poorly on field sobriety test. Mr. Reagan was placed under arrest for driving under the influence. The vehicle was released from the scene to a licensed driver. Deputy asked Mr. Reagan if he was willing to submit to a blood test at which time he stated no. Mr. Reagan was then transported to the Loudon County Jail and read the Tennessee Implied Consent Form. Mr. Reagan was also charged with implied consent, and cited for light law violation. This did occur in Loudon County TN.

and the subject inside had previous issues. Deputy did smell the odor of burnt marijuana and in plain view seen a baggy in the open door that contained a small amount of marijuana. When asked Mr. Murphy first stated that the marijuana was his. A search of the vehicle found a baggy containing approx 1 to 2 grams of marijuana, 2 marijuana pipes, 1 pack of rolling papers, and a set of digital scales. The juvenile driver stated one of the pipes was his and he had no knowledge of any other thing in the vehicle. Mr. Murphy then stated that the marijuana was not his he was just trying to keep his friend out of trouble. Mr. Michael Murphy was arrested for simple possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia. this did occur in Loudon County. Mr. Murphy was also advised not to be back on the Mcdonalds property.

Dr. Oleg Manaev to discuss Vladimir Putin on September 27

Public invited to Library's Books Sandwiched In program at the East Tennessee History Center

Knox County Public Library invites the public to join Dr. Oleg Manaev for a Books Sandwiched In discussion of The Man without a Face: The Unlikely Rise of Vladimir Putin by Masha Gessen at 12:00 p.m. on Wednesday, September 27 in the East Tennessee History Center auditorium, 601 S. Gay Street. Books Sandwiched In is sponsored by the Friends of Knox County Public Library. Reading the book is optional. Attendees may bring lunch. Drinks are available to purchase.

Manaev has an insider's perspective of Eastern European politics. When in 2010 the leadership of the Belarusian State University—on order from the KGB—pressured Manaev to resign, 130 well-known scholars from 30 countries sent a letter of protest to the Belarus President Alexander Lukashenko, preserving his position. Manaev was arrested the following year by the Minsk Riot Police and was called "a pawn of the West" by President Lukashenko. Finally, Manaev's contract with the University was cancelled, ending his 40-year tenure. Manaev has held visiting professorships at universities in the United States, Canada, Brazil, Europe and Japan. He has authored 200 scholarly articles and 20 books on media, political process, and democracy. Currently Manaev serves as a Global Security Fellow at the University of Tennessee Institute for Nuclear Security.

"I'm really impressed by how Gessen's book flows on multiple tracks, tracing Putin's life back to boyhood, the story of his hometown of St. Petersburg, his KGB experience, and finally the last quarter-century of Russian history," Manaev said. "Even though many interpretations remain controversial, this book helps to understand modern Russia."

Vladimir Putin had been a former deputy mayor of St. Petersburg and briefly a director of the secret police, but had very little governmental or administrative experience. When the "family" surrounding Boris Yeltsin went looking for a successor to the ailing and increasingly unpopular president, Putin nevertheless seemed the perfect choice: a "faceless" creature whom Yeltsin and his cronies could mold in their own image.

"Not only the White House and the Congress, the Department of State and the Pentagon, mass media and civil activists, but many fellow Americans think and talk about Russia today," Manaev said. "Was Russia really meddling in the 2016 election, and colluded with the Trump campaign? Does Russia seriously threaten the USA and the existing world order? And more fundamental question: why after collapse of Communism and the end of the Cold war 25 years ago, instead of building democracy, market economy and rule of law Russia has built a new aggressive autocracy?"

Book Sandwiched In will continue October 18, when Brandon Hollingsworth, WUOT's All Things Considered Host/Producer, discusses All These Worlds Are Yours: The Scientific Search for Alien Life by Jon Willis.

DUI

Sarah Slone, 44, Rudd Hollow Road Townsend, was charged with DUI.

Officer Green, was conducting a property check at Calhouns. The officer was speaking to a subject, in the parking lot who stated she was waiting for a friend to pick her up. Once her friend arrived Officer noticed her stumble out of the vehicle. Officer approached the driver, Sarah Slone, to check her wellbeing. Once he made contact with Ms. Slone he observed she was unsteady on her feet, had red watery eyes, and a slurred speech. Officer asked her if she had consumed any alcoholic drinks tonight prior to driving. She stated she had one tall beer with dinner approximately an hour before this encounter at Calhouns. Officer stepped away to speak with the female subject to verify her statement was true. At that time he observed Sarah Slone take a squatting position beside her car and begin urinating. Officer performed Standard Field Sobriety Tests on Ms. Slone. The first test Officer had the subject performed was the Horizontal Gaze Nystagmus, Officer observed a lack of smooth pursuit, distinct and sustained nystagmus at maximum deviation, and onset of Nystagmus prior to 45 degrees.

Electrician/helper FT, local work, 1 yr exp. req. valid DL. must have own tools. Pay DOE. Call 865-317-1094

Officer then had the subject perform the Walk and Turn Test. On this test he observed the driver was unable to maintain balance in the starting position, started too soon, stepped off the line, raised her arms, missed heel to toe contact, stopped walking, took the wrong number of steps, and made an improper turn. The driver was unable to finish this test and requested to move onto the last test. The last test Officer had the driver perform was the one leg stand. During this test I observed the driver raise her arms, put her foot down, and sway while performing the test. Officer placed Ms. Slone under arrest for driving under the influence. Ms. Slone consented to a blood test so he transported her to Fort Loudon Medical Center for the test.

After having the blood samples Officer transported her to the Loudon County Jail without incident. All the above occurred in Loudon County.
