TAMIS receives $71,400 grant for film preservation

Knoxville, Tennessee -- The Tennessee Archive of Moving Image and Sound (TAMIS) is pleased to announce a grant award of $71,400 from the National Film Preservation Foundation. The funds will be used to restore and preserve home movies and films from Dr. Walther Barth. TAMIS is a part of the McClung Historical Collection of the Knox County Public Library. The Friends of the Library are acting as the grant's fiscal agent and are providing $12,000 in matching funds to complete the project.

This one-of-a-kind collection consists of several thousand feet of silent 16mm reversal motion picture film. The grant enables TAMIS to fund the most comprehensive preservation process possible on this collection. Without it, the expertise and specialized lab work would be unattainable. This is the second grant TAMIS has received to fund preservation of this extensive collection. The process is expected to take one to two years to complete. With careful manage-

After checking the status of Ms. Butler's license through dispatch it was confirmed she had a suspended license. Deputy initiated a traffic stop at Shults Road and Highway 411 and upon contact confirmed the driver of the vehicle to be Ms. Butler. None of the passengers in Ms. Butler's vehicle had a valid license either. While talking to the male passenger, he admitted to having some broken smoking pipes used for meth in the vehicle. The other passenger, also stated she had smoking pipes used for meth in the vehicle. Ms. Butler denied knowledge of anything in the vehicle. During a search multiple meth pipes were located. Reagan moving what he believed was a meth smoking pipe in her bra. She removed the pipe and was then detained. She then stated she may also have "dope" on her as well but wasn't sure. A female Deputy from the Blount County Sheriff's Office did assist and search Ms. Butler and found a crystal like substance under one of her breast wrapped in plastic and aluminum foil. Ms. Butler was then placed into custody.

The male had an active warrant out of Monroe County and a Deputy from Monroe got the male from the scene. Ms. Butler was charged with possession of methamphetamine. Total field weight of the methamphetamine was .8 grams. All paraphernalia seized was put into evidence to be destroyed.

ment, the preservation materials are expected to last several hundred years without degradation.

Barth was a skilled amateur filmmaker who immigrated to the United States in 1931, eventually settling in Knoxville. He captured the hustle and bustle of cosmopolitan continental life, early evidence of Nazi influences on German society, pastoral outings, the verdant landscapes of upstate New York, the Great Smoky Mountains, and vignettes of family life.

"These films are important to preserve because they document scenes in pre-war Germany that provide a candid look at a moment before the societal changes of the Third Reich and the devastation of World War II," commented TAMIS project manager, John Morton. "After Dr. Barth's move to the United States, the footage preserves period glimpses of American marvels, both natural and man-made, and a lively portrait of the emerging automobile culture. The breadth of the collection is capacious enough to offer multiple rich veins of material to researchers."

Dr. Barth's son donated the films to TAMIS in 2007. Portions of the films have been digitized and presented in screenings at the Tennessee Theatre in Knoxville and at the Orphan Film Symposium in New York City. It was selected for inclusion in the orphan film night at the To Save and Project film festival at the Museum of Modern Art, NYC. This grant will preserve and restore the remainder of the films not preserved with TAMIS' 2020 grant funding.

Along with the Barth Collection at TAMIS, the National Film Preservation Foundation announced grants to 27 additional institutions across the United States to preserve numerous reels from their collections.

Portions of the previously preserved films are available online.

yourself in someone else's shoes and experience life through their eyes. By doing this, you're apt to become more conscious of your own actions and the effect of those actions on the people around you.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Today your thoughts may turn to fashion and the different ways in which you can improve your wardrobe. Don't be afraid to create a look that reflects your true inner spirit. Deck yourself in external splendor to illustrate the many different colors and layers that you carry on the inside. Don't hesitate to pick up a fashion magazine at the grocery store.

Sagittarius

11/22-12/21

The amazing thing about your nature is that, like a good politician, you have just the right tone of voice and catch phrase for every situation. You can put on your smile and charm and talk your way out of just about any pickle you get into. Embrace this incredible gift, but make sure that your overall goals are noble as opposed to self-serving or vengeful.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

You're apt to get the feeling that the grass is greener on the other side of the fence today, Capricorn. Try not to get too hung up on this. Either make the effort to go where the landscape looks richer and more fruitful or stay where you are. The key to true happiness is to make sure that regardless of where you end up, you enjoy the spot where you are.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

Your mind may wander to a fantasyland full of castles, wizards, and magic dragons today, Aquarius. You could find that you're putting yourself in the robes of a beautiful or handsome figure in a tall tower who's waiting for the perfect mate to come along. Observe the fanciful scenario you've created and see how the symbols and characters connect with your real life. Your imagination is trying to tell you something.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

Get on the fast track and use your powerful words and creative mind to make quick decisions that are mindful yet spontaneous. If you get in a pinch today, Pisces, don't worry about it. Simply relax, take a deep breath, and let your intuition guide you to the right path. Instead of wasting your energy thrashing helplessly in the water, call for help.

Aries 3/21-4/19

Start the day with some vigorous yoga and then some meditation to help clear your mind, Aries. Stretch your body and get the blood flowing through all of your limbs. Once your blood is flowing, your mind will get moving. Before it gets too far into its noisy routine, take the opportunity to maintain a quiet, serene state while you clear out the static and set forth your goals for the day.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

Do something for the community today, Taurus, and really consider how your talents and skills can best be put to work. Consider volunteering at a school or library. Donate blood or help the elderly. Whatever you do, smile knowing that you're making direct contact with friends who need your assistance. Instead of just complaining about the way things are going, take a proactive role in leading the way toward a more philanthropic world.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

If you're having trouble tackling a giant problem, Gemini, don't get discouraged or overwhelmed. The key for you is to break things down into smaller chunks, analyze them, and figure out their role within the greater whole. You will find that by taking things one step at a time, any problem you encounter will be infinitely easier to overcome than you may have thought at first.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

It may seem like everyone around you is happy and getting what they want while you're stuck in the trenches, Cancer. Don't compare yourself to other people and make judgments based on outside appearances. The truth of the matter is that they're most likely only looking at the immediate future and experiencing short-term pleasures. You, however, have your sights set on the long-term and will probably be much better off.

Leo 7/23-8/22

Imagination and fantasy play a big part in your thinking today, Leo, and you shouldn't hesitate to embrace this frame of mind. There's a great deal of power to be drawn from your sense of freedom to explore and dream. Your thinking is more of a higher consciousness now. You should take advantage of this lofty perspective to see things from a neutral viewpoint.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

Engage more of your rational mind today, Virgo. If your mind continues on its track into a fantasy world, you might consider enlisting the help of people who can help you bring some discipline to your situation. For you, the general feeling of the day is likely to be that the mind is willing, but the flesh is weak. Let others help you get inspired to get out of lazy mode.
