Timothy Harper, 23, Wexford Lane Knoxville, was charged with DUI, Violation of Implied Consent, and Poss. of Drug Para.

Officer McGinnis LCPD, responded to the area of U.S. Hwy 321 and U.S. Hwy 11 in reference to a crash with out injury. Upon arrival Officer spoke with both drivers and advised them to clear the roadway. Once both vehicles were out of the roadway Officer was able to speak with each driver whose stories did corroborate, stating that Mr. Harper did strike the vehicle in front of him that was stopped with traffic. Upon speaking with Mr. Harper Officer could smell a scent of marijuana on his person, along with Mr. Harper not being able to answer simple questions. There was also a medium size glass pipe with a burnt, green, leafy substance in plain view in the front area of the vehicle. Officer then asked Mr. Harper if he had smoked or taken any substances prior to driving, to which he informed the officer that he had taken his prescribed Zoloft and smoked THC a couple of hours prior. Mr. Harper then consented to perform STFS's. During the HGN the officer noticed a lack of smooth pursuit, during the WAT the officer saw that Mr. Harper had trouble keeping his balance, and took the wrong number of steps, as well as missing the heel to toe, and made an improper turn. Lastly, during the OLS, Mr. Harper was swaying and put his foot down multiple times.

Officer then placed Mr. Harper under arrest and placed him into the back of his patrol vehicle. While reading the TN implied consent form, Mr. Harper did interrupt me multiple times, and when I finished reading and asked him for consent for a blood sample he could not make a decision which was taken as a refusal. Officer then transported Mr. Harper to the Loudon County Jail without further incident.

Merly Hensley, 41, Edgerfield Lake Lenoir City, was charged with Domestic Assault.

Officer Sparks LCPD, was dispatched to the Southeast Bank on Town Creek Parkway in reference to a drunk driver. The anonymous complainant advised that a woman in a red SUV was intoxicated and that the woman was fighting with her daughter in the vehicle. Officer Lyon arrived on scene and located a red 2016 Nissan Rogue, bearing TN Registration 019BFNQ, that matched the description provided by the complainant. Officer J. Espinoza and Officer Sparks arrived on scene shortly after and discovered victim and Merly joy Hensley inside the vehicle who were returning home from a restaurant in Knoxville. When leaving the restaurant, the victim advised that Merly joy insisted on driving to their residence on Edgerfield Lane in Lenoir City despite her being intoxicated. While on their way to their residence, the victim became concerned with Merly joy's driving and stated that it was erratic and she felt endangered. The victim convinced Merly joy to stop the vehicle at the Southeast Bank on Town Creek Parkway, where they began arguing. The victim advised that while they were arguing about Merly joy's driving, Merly joy "hit" her, pulled her hair on her head, and bit her left hand.

The victim stated that this all occurred within their vehicle as a result of Merly joy's level of intoxication. Merly joy did appear intoxicated and smelled strongly of the odor of alcohol. Merly joy stated that she felt disrespected and felt that she was capable of driving and that the victim tried to stop her from doing so. Merly joy stated that she did push the victim and pulled the hair on her head because the victim was attempting to stop her from driving. Merly joy denied biting the victim hand. The victim did have a small, minor red mark on her left hand that she stated was a result of being bit by Merly joy. Officers determined that Merly joy Henley was the primary aggressor in the altercation and was taken into custody for Domestic Assault.

CDC networks, response capacities, and other platforms and systems for rapid response to ongoing and emerging public health threats.”

Priorities for the new regional office include:

Expanding CDC’s core global health security capacity by building stronger collaboration and partnerships in the East Asia and Pacific region,

The ability to detect public health threats and respond quickly, and

Knowledge and information exchange between CDC and the region.

“The COVID pandemic reminded us that viruses don’t stop at borders,” said Rahm Emanuel, U.S. Ambassador to Japan. “International collaboration, transparency, and science, especially among partner countries like Japan, are key. The opening of CDC’s regional office in Tokyo brings together American, Japanese, and regional expertise to track, respond to and defeat diseases.”

Through this office, CDC will focus on identification, response, and mitigation of health threats in international settings to rapidly respond to outbreaks at their source and prevent spread to and within the U.S. Expanding government and nongovernment partnerships will help CDC build the trust and transparency needed for the rapid exchange of data, and it will also strengthen core global health security capacities. Partnering to train a global workforce to prevent, detect, and respond, and sharing scientific expertise will strengthen programs and people to prevent emerging threats.

Michelle McConnell, MD, has been named the new CDC EAP regional director, transitioning from her previous role as director for Asia and the Pacific in the Office of Global Affairs at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. In her new position, Dr. McConnell will formulate a global health security strategy for the region, oversee global health security activities, collaborate on the implementation of headquarters programs through partnership with CDC country offices, and engage with other relevant stakeholders.

In today’s interconnected world, a disease threat anywhere can become a health threat in the U.S. Recognizing that disease knows no borders, CDC has setup regional offices worldwide to promote U.S. global health security objectives and establish a lasting global presence. In the past few years, CDC established regional offices in South America (Brazil), Eastern Europe/Central Asia (Georgia), the Middle East/North Africa (Oman), and Southeast Asia (Vietnam) and this year will add two new regional offices with the opening of the East Asia Pacific Office today and the opening of the Central America/Caribbean office in Panama later this year.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

CDC works 24/7 protecting America’s health, safety and security. Whether diseases start at home or abroad, are curable or preventable, chronic or acute, or from human activity or deliberate attack, CDC responds to America’s most pressing health threats. CDC is headquartered in Atlanta and has experts located throughout the United States and the world.
