CDC study shows effectiveness of RSV immunization for infants

Jose Cortes

(see LCPD pg. 3)

Early data from the New Vaccine Surveillance Network show nirsevimab is 90% effective in preventing infants from being hospitalized with RSV.

New data released today in CDC's MMWR show that nirsevimab, a long-acting monoclonal antibody product, was highly effective in protecting infants from hospitalizations associated with respiratory syncytial virus (RSV). RSV is the leading cause of hospitalization among infants in the United States, and this finding supports CDC's recommendation to protect infants in their first RSV season by giving the infant nirsevimab if the mother did not receive the maternal RSV vaccine during pregnancy.

The current RSV season is the first time nirsevimab was available to protect infants from severe RSV, so the data released today are the first United States estimates of nirsevimab effectiveness in protecting infants against RSV-related hospitalization in their first season of potential exposure to the virus.

The study looked at 699 infants from Oc- see CDC pg 5

Verse of the Day

All who rely on observing the law are under a curse, for it is written: "Cursed is everyone who does not continue to do everything written in the Book of the Law." Clearly no one is Cordarius was taken into custody for being in possession of stolen property and charged with theft of property.

Loudon County Dispatch

advised due to a recent update to NCIC they were unable to obtain the hit confirmation for the stolen firearm, but the Bridgeport Police Department later faxed the original theft report of the firearm and confirmed the firearm was stolen and documented in NCIC. NCIC#- G185614349. Cordarius was transported to the Loudon County Detention Facility.

Shelia Bledsoe, 40, 2nd Avenue Lenoir City, was charged with Domestic Assault.

Officer Sparks LCPD, was dispatched to W 2nd Avenue in reference to a domestic assault. Upon arrival, Officer met with the complainant, who advised that she lives in the basement of the listed address with her daughter, Sheila Bledsoe, and the victim. Complainant advised that earlier in the evening, Sheila had been at her boyfriend's house at W 2nd Avenue. Sheila had called victim, her son who was with complainant at the time, and began speaking poorly to him and threatening him over the phone. Sheila then entered the basement of W 2nd Avenue prior to 2112 the same evening, and stated that she was going to take the victim to the hospital for a mental evaluation because of the way he had been speaking to her and how he was performing in school. Feeling that Sheila should not be speaking to her son the victim the way she was and threatening him, complainant advised that she intervened and told Sheila to not speak to the victim in the manner that she was. Complainant was seated in the living room in the residence when the argument with Sheila began, and Sheila was standing in the kitchen around the corner. When the argument began, Sheila walked from the kitchen to directly in front of complainant/victim in the living room in a way that complainant/victim described as "aggressive", as if Sheila was planning to fight her. After approaching complainant/victim, Sheila pushed victim with her chest while cursing at her. The push caused victim to stumble, but not fall, and complainant/victim pushed Sheila away from her. Sheila then exited the residence and returned back to W 2nd Avenue. There, she advised officers that she did approach Katy and pushed her back with her chest. No injuries were observed on either party, and Sheila Bledsoe was identified as the primary aggressor and subsequently taken into custody for Domestic Assault.

 October 2023 through February 2024 using early data from CDC's New Vaccine Surveillance Network (NVSN), a population-based surveillance platform that monitors pediatric respiratory viruses to assess immunization effectiveness. Results show that nirsevimab was 90% effective at preventing RSV-associated hospitalization in infants during their first RSV season. These results reflect a shorter surveillance period due to the introduction of this new product in August 2023. Nirsevimab effectiveness may be lower over a full RSV season (October through March in most of the United States). With increasing availability of nirsevimab in future RSV seasons, CDC will assess its effectiveness over an entire season.

RSV prevention products remain our single most important tool to protect infants from RSV. Healthcare providers should recommend either:

Infant immunization with nirsevimab for all infants who are younger than 8 months, born during or entering their first RSV season, if their mother did not receive the maternal RSV vaccine; or Maternal RSV vaccination – giving the RSV vaccine (Abrysvo) to pregnant people during weeks 32 through 36 of pregnancy if that period falls between September and January in most of the United States.

CDC continues to monitor the safety and effectiveness of nirsevimab and maternal RSV vaccines.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Whether diseases start at home or abroad, are curable or preventable, chronic or acute, or from human activity or deliberate attack,

CDC's world-leading experts protect lives and livelihoods, national security and the U.S. economy by providing timely, commonsense information, and rapidly identifying and responding to diseases, including outbreaks and illnesses. CDC drives science, public health research, and data innovation in communities across the country by investing in local initiatives to protect everyone's health.

Horoscopes

things that you really aren't very happy with. Perhaps you harbor a sense of shame based on past events that still linger in your mind.

Aries 3/21-4/19

Let today serve as a reminder of the importance of love, Aries. Don't just think of it as a commodity you fight for and conquer with conniving tricks and strategic dating tactics. Realize that love is evident in how you see the world; it's a seed in you.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

You may be feeling a strong sense of guilt now because of something you did in an effort to feed your ego, Taurus. Be aware of how your actions have affected others and apologize.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

Pure wisdom is an important quality for you to aspire to on this day, Gemini. Know that the wisdom you seek should come from a point of calm knowing and strength as opposed to a frantic, loud, and outlandish display for attention.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

Why keep fighting a fight that you know you can't win, Cancer? Why keep trying to fool yourself and others into thinking that you have all the answers when you're only aware of the tip of the iceberg? The mass of knowledge lies well beneath the surface.

Leo 7/23-8/22

Anger is apt to stir inside you today, Leo, so beware of any actions that might manifest as a result of this powerful feeling. Do what you can to find the deep source of this anger.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

Show some gratitude to the people around you today, Virgo. The seat of your personality is very strong at this time, and you're confident to your core. Mix this feeling with the service-oriented sensitivity of the day that asks us to do things for others.

Libra 9/23-10/22

Think of today as a restorative time for yourself in which you can come to a point of greater ease and comfort, Libra. Trust yourself and the people around you. Open your eyes to the reality of the situation at hand.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

You may find yourself gravitating toward solid, grounded things, Scorpio, in hopes that these will provide you with the stability that you lack. A key word for you today is patience. Learn how to wait without becoming restless or grumpy.

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

Try to come to a place of serenity today in which you free yourself from desire and jealousy, Sagittarius. It's important that you take time to recognize the incredible growth that can spring from this position of calm and pure satisfaction. Rid yourself of the excess baggage that you cling to as some sort of support or means of comfort. The less you carry, the more you free up your arms to create.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

The key word for you today is boundaries, Capricorn, so think for a minute about what this means to you. It's time to have a serious talk with yourself. Set some limits and be honest about drawing the line. Your health, your state of mind, and your relationships with others all depend on your taking the initiative to know when to say no in certain situations.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

Make sure that you're living consciously at this time, Aquarius. It could be that you're going through a period of denial and simply refusing to see the truth of the situation. Open up your eyes to the world around you so you can invite in joy and compassion. Don't be satisfied with superficial interactions that don't really satisfy you emotionally and intellectually.
