Ensuring Safety at Sea

Learn how the FBI and our partners work together to safeguard the millions of Americans who travel on cruise ships every year

Marcus Reeves

(see Charged pg. 4)

Imagine lounging on the deck of a cruise ship, the shimmering ocean stretching endlessly before you, ready to set sail to new horizons and countries.

While cruises promise relaxation and escape, the unfortunate reality is that serious crimes can and do happen on the high seas. The FBI, alongside its partners, works to ensure the safety of the millions of Americans traveling aboard cruise ships every year.

Cruise ship criminal jurisdiction is complicated, and keeping U.S. passengers safe at sea presents unique challenges. FBI Tampa Special Agent Mat Pagliarini and FBI Los Angeles Special Agent Matt Parker are experts at navigating the complexities of cruise ship crime from coast to coast.

Because cruise ships are registered in one country but travel through international waters, and also carry crew and passengers from many countries, when a crime occurs, more than one country may want to investigate—which raises critical questions.

"It really depends,"

said Pagliarini, who investigates cruise ship crime out of Florida's Cape Canaveral. "Do we have jurisdiction based on where the ship was? What was the next port of call? Was a U.S. citizen involved?"

The location of the vessel, the nationality of the suspect or victim, the ownership of the vessel, the points of embarkation and debarkation, and the country where the vessel is registered all determine the FBI's role and ability to investigate.

Combating cruise ship crime through collaboration

Beyond U.S. borders, cooperation is critical for crimes at sea. Investigations are governed not only by U.S. law but also by the laws of other nations and international law. When dealing with foreign vessels, the FBI must first obtain consent to board.

Once on board, time is also critical.

FBI investigators have a small window to secure the crime scene, collect evidence, and conduct witness, victim, and suspect interviews before the vessel departs.

"You have everything you need to solve the crime on the ship," said Parker. "You have a short amount of time to do the best you can to solve this case or collect all the evidence you need to solve this case and then your crime scene leaves."

The FBI received 180 reports of alleged criminal activity on board cruises in 2023, from thefts to missing persons cases. According to both Pagliarini and Parker, sexual assaults topped the list of cruise ship crime reports they received, followed by physical assaults.

When it comes to crimes like sexual assault, the Cruise Vessel Security and Safety Act (CVSSA) of 2010 requires these incidents be reported to the FBI.

"The CVSSA basically lays down all the rules that cruise line cruise ships have to follow to be in business," said Pagliarini. "They have eight reporting requirements, and they have to notify authorities if it meets the threshold for those eight types of violations or allegations."

The eight mandated reportable incidents are homicide, suspicious deaths, missing

U.S. nationals, kidnappings, assaults with serious bodily injuries, sexual assault, firing or tampering with a vessel, and theft of money or property of more than $10,000.

The FBI coordinates with the U.S. Attorney's Office to determine if we have jurisdiction and, if so, will usually board the vessel when it docks. When working aboard the vessel, Bureau personnel emphasize protection of life, preservation of evidence, and securing the crime scene.

Horoscopes

self, "What do I want people to say about me when I'm gone?" Get back on the road to a fulfilled life by taking steps toward your desires.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

Today's a good day to check into advancing your career or education, Virgo. The energy favors expansion and growth. When was the last time you learned a new skill? It doesn't have to be work related, either. If arranging flowers, skydiving, or programming websites is something that appeals to you, go for it.

Libra 9/23-10/22

Do you recognize your intuition as a valuable asset, Libra? Some people do and some don't. Which group are you in? It can be easy to trust more in concrete, factual reality than in the things you can't touch, yet your intuition can serve you more than you may realize.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Use your creativity to make things happen today, Scorpio. This doesn't have to take the form of a finished product. You can come up with new and innovative ways to approach a task, project, or problem. Trust your ability to discover such things. You're known for your sharp thinking and creative abilities.

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

Find new ways to expand your horizons, Sagittarius. The web has an infinite number of resources and information to explore. Not only that, but your community and local colleges offer various online courses to choose from. Think about what you'd enjoy learning - perhaps a new job skill or craft

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

Step out of your usual role, Capricorn. Doing this every now and then can add knowledge and expand your life. The day's planetary aspects favor such growth. Your willingness to walk a different path can give you far more than you imagine. Try something you've never considered before. Go to a new place.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

Are you satisfied with your current career, Aquarius? If not, start by making a plan. There are specific steps that you can take to give you the greatest advantage in the opportunities available. Consider visiting online career sites.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

Don't fear change, Pisces. Even if you think you don't adjust well, you have far more adaptability than you realize. Without change, life would become stagnant and lifeless. It wouldn't be long before you grew unsatisfied and bored with the same old thing

Aries 3/21-4/19

Make your dreams valuable tools for insight, Aries. Back in the old days, great rulers believed so strongly in the insight of dreams that they employed interpreters. Whether you think dreams are mystical insights or random thoughts, you can gain a lot from them.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

Follow your instincts, Taurus. Even if you tend to listen more to your reason, put that aside. While your ears can hear words, your intuition can hear what's between the lines and provide you with a much bigger picture. If something sounds right but feels wrong, you'll be better off trusting your feelings.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

Feed your mind with new knowledge, Gemini. Visit an internet bookstore or read some interesting information online. If you have more time, visit the library, if possible, or explore courses that you might like. There is knowledge to be had everywhere you look, provided you're open to receiving it. People are often the best resource.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

Try to see nightmares as safe ways to understand feelings, Cancer. No one likes to experience them, and we'd sooner forget them once awake, the quickest way to ensure they don't return is to understand what they're saying.
