Convicted Knoxville Gang Leader Sentenced To 45 Years For Drug Trafficking, Firearms, and Money Laundering Crimes

Bryan Cornelius, 34, of Knoxville, was sentenced to a total term of 45 years in prison by the Honorable Thomas A. Varlan, United States District Judge, in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Tennessee at Knoxville. Following his imprisonment, Cornelius will be on supervised release for five years.

The sentencing follows Cornelius's federal trial in April 2022, during which a jury convicted him of conspiring to distribute various controlled substances, including methamphetamine, heroin, fentanyl, and marijuana. The evidence presented at trial included wiretaps of multiple cellular phones, multiple search warrants at various Knoxville residences, narcotics, firearms, and cash seizures. The evidence showed that Cornelius, a member of the Gangster Disciples street gang, was ordering narcotics from different sources of supply in California and receiving packages of methamphetamine and marijuana through the United States Postal Service (USPS), FedEx, and UPS throughout 2019 and that he

Hang Up

Daniel Nicolo, 37, South East Cove Cleveland, was charged with, Aggravated Assault.

Deputy Billy Freeman LCSO, was dispatched to Little Valley Road in Loudon for a 911 hang-up call. Upon arrival, the deputy heard loud music coming from inside the house, followed by the sound of a male yelling and a female crying. After Sergeant Brandon Pesterfield and Deputy Brooke Slattery arrived on the scene, they attempted to knock on the door and announce, "Sheriff's Office." After several attempts to gain entry, Sgt. Pesterfield checked the exterior of the house and observed a male through the back door. This male, identified as Mr. Daniel Nicolo (offender/arreste), then opened the back door, allowing Sgt. Pesterfield to make contact. The deputy proceeded to the back of the house, where Deputy Slattery had already detained Mr. Nicolo on the back porch. Upon entering the house with Sgt. Pesterfield, they located the female, identified as the (victim), lying in bed. While speaking with her, the deputy observed redness on her face and shoulders, along with marks on her neck that were consistent with strangulation by hand, based on his training and experience. The victim stated that she had been in bed the entire time and that Mr. Nicolo was in the kitchen washing dishes. The deputy then spoke with Mr. Nicolo, who claimed they had been out drinking and that the victim had been in bed since they returned home. He also said he decided to wash the dishes and nothing more. The deputy observed that Mr. Nicolo had a swollen bottom lip and a strong odor of alcohol on his person. When the deputy asked how they knew each other, Mr. Nicolo stated they had been in a relationship for over a year. Upon further investigation, it was determined that Mr. Nicolo was the primary aggressor after the victim made a spontaneous statement that she was defending herself when he sustained the injury to his bottom lip. Mr. Nicolo was taken into custody. Mr. Nicolo was read his Miranda rights and transported to the Loudon County Jail. While gathering evidence, the victim did have bruises on her shoulders and both arms, swelling on the left side of her face, scratch marks on her chest, a busted upper and lower lip on the left side of her face, and a cut on the back of her head (photographed in the report). Deputy Slattery then transported the victim to Fort Loudon Medical Center for medical clearance. This did occur without further incident in Loudon County, TN.

Drugs

Katherine Shelton, 36, Homeless Loudon, was charged with, Man/Sell/Del/Resale Sch. I & II. Investigator Chance Gray LCSO, was advised of a small black locked container that Cpl. Wallen had located concealed in Katherine Shelton pants after locating multiple items of Paraphernalia in the vehicle and her belongings. Shelton advised the deputy that she did not have a key nor did she know the contents of the container. Due to multiple items of drug para. throughout the vehicle, and obvious attempt to conceal the container from deputies. The container was taken and secured into evidence at the Loudon County Sheriff's Office, until a search warrant could be obtained for the container. A search warrant was executed on the container. After making entry on the container, a clear cellophane containing .95 grams of a brown powder, .29 grams of purple powder, and .14 grams of a tan powder tested positive for heroin with fentanyl compound.

Charged

According to the reports, Officers attempted a traffic stop on a burglary suspect, who then fled the scene, starting a pursuit. The chase led officers through Loudon County and into the City of Loudon. Due to the suspect's dangerous and reckless driving, Loudon County deputies and Loudon City officers deployed spike strips, bringing the pursuit to a safe end and the suspect into custody.

Shortly after, detectives and officers identified a second wanted felon in another vehicle. When officers attempted to stop the vehicle, the driver fled, leading authorities on a pursuit down I-75 South, ending in Meigs County, where the suspect was apprehended after his vehicle was disabled.

The first suspect was driving a gray short bus, which had been stolen earlier that morning in Hamblen County. The bus driver also had felony warrants out of Hamilton County. The second suspect, a convicted felon on active felony probation, was wanted for multiple felony warrants out of Knox and McMinn counties. Both suspects will be facing numerous felony charges from our agency.

Thank you to Loudon County Sheriff's TN., Loudon Police Department, Tennessee Highway Patrol, Meigs County Sheriff's Office, The McMinn County Sheriff's Office, and Monroe County Emergency Services - 911 for their help in ending these pursuits safely.

All suspects are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Meth Charge

Samantha Russell, 53, Kirkland Drive Madisonville, was charged with, Mfg/Del/Sale or Poss. of Meth.

Deputy B. Slattery LCSO, was dispatched to Sugarlimb Rd., just before the north-bound exit ramp from I-75, in reference to a suspicious person lying in a ditch. Upon arrival, the deputy made contact with Deputies B. McCall and B. Freeman, who were already in contact with the suspect, Samantha Russell. The deputy approached Ms. Russell, who stated that she was on her way home and had run out of gas. Before escorting her to a nearby gas station, the deputy asked for her consent to search her person for any illegal weapons or contraband. After obtaining verbal consent, the deputy conducted a pat-down search and located a small white napkin in her front left jean pocket. Upon removing the napkin and unrolling it, the deputy discovered a broken clear pipe and a small clear baggie containing a white, crystal-like substance, which the deputy suspected to be methamphetamine based on her training and experience. Ms. Russell denied ownership of the items, stating, "That is not mine. I meant to throw it out." the deputy then transported Ms. Russell to the Loudon County Jail, where Narcotics Detective C. Green used the TruNarc device to test the substance. The test came back positive for methamphetamine, with an approximate weight of 1.2 grams. This incident occurred without further issue in Loudon County, Tennessee maintained multiple addresses across Knoxville to stash his narcotics, firearms, and cash to facilitate his narcotics distribution. In addition, the evidence showed that, in furtherance of his drug trafficking, at approximately 2:45 p.m. on November 21, 2019, Cornelius, along with two others, drove by the Stop-n-Go on Brooks Avenue and Cornelius fired fifteen rounds of 7.62mm into a Mercedes-Benz. The driver sustained two non-life-threatening gunshot wounds. The jury also convicted Cornelius of conspiracy to commit money laundering. According to court documents, twenty-two other charged members of the conspiracy previously pleaded guilty.

In determining the sentence, Judge Varlan took into account several aggravating factors, including Cor-nelius's role as a leader and organizer of the crimes, his credible threats of violence made against other people in connection with his crimes, and his use of guns and violence in connection with his crimes.

U.S. Attorney Francis M. Hamilton III of the Eastern District of Tennessee; Special Agent in Charge Joe Carrico of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and Tommy D. Coke of the U.S. Postal Inspector in Charge of the Atlanta Division, made the announcement.

This conviction and sentence resulted from an investigation conducted by the FBI HIDTA Task Force and the United States Postal Inspection Service (USPIS). The FBI HIDTA Task Force includes the Roane County Sheriff's Office, Knoxville Police Department, Knoxville Sheriff's Office, Blount County Sheriff's Office, and Sevier County Sheriff's Office. The Tennessee Bureau of Investigation and the Drug Enforcement Administration, also assisted in this investigation by conducting drug analysis on seized narcotics in the case.

Assistant United States Attorneys Cynthia Davidson and Alan Kirk represented the United States.

This case was part of the Department's Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force (OCDETF) and the HIDTA programs. OCDETF is the primary weapon of the United States against the highest-level drug trafficking organizations operating within the United States, importing drugs into the United States, or laundering the proceeds of drug trafficking. The HIDTA program enhances and coordinates drug control efforts among local, State, and Federal law enforcement agencies. The program provides agencies with coordination, equipment, technology, and additional resources to combat drug trafficking and its harmful consequences in critical regions of the United States.

This case is also part of Project Safe Neighborhoods (PSN), the centerpiece of the Department of Justice's violent crime reduction efforts. PSN is an evidence-based program proven to be effective at reducing violent crime. Through PSN, a broad spectrum of stakeholders working together to identify the most pressing violent crime problems in the community and develop comprehensive solutions to address them. As part of this strategy, PSN focuses enforcement efforts on the most violent offenders and partners with locally based prevention and reentry programs for lasting reductions in crime.

Horoscopes

play this game as well as others.
Pisces 2/19-3/20

It's hard to keep your balance when a big rock suddenly falls on one side of the scale, Pisces. Resolving the matter isn't as hard as you think, because this rock has been dropped there as a gift. Even though it might be shocking at first, there's an important message in this surprise.

Aries 3/21-4/19

Like a team of pickpockets in a crowd, a group may have its eyes on you and secretly scheme to take advantage of your innocence, Aries. One may work to distract you with something playful and harmless, while the others work behind your back to secretly steal your valuables.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

Opportunity is the name of the game for you, Taurus. Don't turn out the lights before you make sure you've explored all your options today. Inspiration may come in a flash of unexpected thought, so make sure you have a pad and pencil handy. A good idea could be disguised as something insignificant, but if anyone is able to see the potential in something, it's you.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

Today you may be asked to choose between the old and the new, Gemini. It's as if people are protesting in some manner and you're being asked to join in the ranks of those wishing to see change. Make sure you honestly assess all the available information before you automatically dismiss the situation as foolish. You should seriously consider lending a hand to the fight.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

Your inner strength and courage are tremendous today. You will find that people naturally gravitate toward you, Cancer. Accept this flood of energy and put it to good use however you see fit. A spark of genius may hit you sometime during the day. It will have you up all night working on a new invention.

Leo 7/23-8/22

Wear the striped shirt and polka-dot pants today, Leo. The more you clash with the outside world the better. You may feel wildly out of place at first, but you will begin to see the beauty, importance, and respect you hold by standing out from the crowd. This attitude change will do you good. You may see a whole new way of living.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

If you don't understand something, ask, Virgo. If it looks different to you, ask why that is. Your curiosity is high, especially when it comes to the unconventional, and even more if it's revolutionary. The rebel in you will feel new purpose, and you may be tempted to throw a stick in the spokes of an old carriage that continues to head down the same old boring path.

Libra 9/23-10/22

You may be shaken to the core today by someone of great personal magnetism, Libra. Maybe you feel as if you're being overshadowed because of the grandiose ideas and mountains of information coming from this person. Perhaps you feel you're too slow. Did you ever think that someone is going too quickly? Don't automatically think that you're the one who needs to change gears.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Your internal computer just got upgraded today and your head is buzzing with all kinds of new information, Scorpio. The good news is that you should be able to process all these bytes at lightning speed.

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

You may feel a bit lonely today, Sagittarius, even if there are people all around you. It may seem like everyone's on a different plane. Maybe you think you have nothing in common with others - even those you generally feel closest to.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

This is a climactic time for you, Capricorn. All your yearly cycles have reached a critical juncture. You may feel as if you're at a point of tremendous victory or terrible failure. Either way, it's important that you look on this time as a celebration that you've made it this far.
